Thieu Requests New Govt. For S. Vietnam

SAIGON (AP) — President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam today asked Gen. Tran Thien Kiem to form a new government, the state radio announced.

Khiem the present deputy premier and interior minister, was considered the most powerful man in the old Cabinet and among the most likely to succeed Tran Van Huong as premier.

Huong was asked to remain in a caretaker status until a new Cabinet is formed.

"The office of the presidency issued the following statement:

"This morning, 23 August 1969, the president announced: Gen. Tran Thien Kiem has the confidence of President Thieu to form a new Cabinet.

"The president also asked Premier Huong and the present Cabinet to remain on as caretakers until a new cabinet is formed."

Huong said Friday he had agreed "that the president will make the decision on forming a new Cabinet." In effect, he was bowing to charges that he had lost touch with the National Assembly, had little physical stamina and was taking unpopular financial and economic measures.

Khiem conferred with Huong for 45 minutes this morning, a government spokesman said.

Khiem, 43, is a four-star general. He helped mastermind the 1963 coup against President Ngo Dinh Diem and later was sent to Formosa as ambassador to Nationalist China.

With Khiem as premier, the nation in effect will be in the hands of a military triumvirate — Thieu, Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky and Khiem.

Washington staunchly supported Huong, one of the only civilians to hold a top post in the Thieu regime, and American officials were known to favor a civilian as premier. Khiem, however, is highly regarded by the U.S. mission as an administrator.

Heavy Rains Batter Mexico

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Incessant heavy rains, a result of Hurricane Camille, have caused floods and forced more than 100,000 persons from their homes in Oaxaca State on Mexico's Pacific coast.

A Red Cross official said a week of rain in Oaxaca has left up to six feet of water in some places and caused more than $500,000 property damage.

"There are at least 100,000 people without homes in the state of Oaxaca," said Dr. Alvarado Jimenez de Alba, chief of the medical services for the Red Cross.

He said many of the homeless were "poor people with no place to go."

Dr. Jimenez de Alba said two battalions of government troops and more than 100 Red Cross workers were busy around the clock aiding the flood victims.

One of the most serious problems is drinking water. Wells have been flooded and, because roads are impassable, authorities cannot reach some villages with water trucks.

But a dozen aircraft loaded with medicine, clothing and food were unable to take off from Mexico City airport because of the constant rain.

Heavy rain is falling throughout Mexico and floods threaten other areas. A weather forecaster in Mexico City said the situation could become worse in the next few days.

Withdrawal

SAIGON (AP) — Another 721 U.S. troops will leave Vietnam Sunday as part of President Nixon's 25,000 man cutback announced June 8, the U.S. Army said today.

Weather

ESCANABA AND VICINITY: Today sunny and warm, high in the mid 80s. Tonight clear and not as cool, low 60s. Sunday mostly sunny and continued warm, high near 85. Monday's outlook: partly cloudy and a little cooler. Winds westerly 10 to 15 mph today and tonight increasing to 12 to 20 mph Sunday. Precipitation probabilities: near zero today, tonight, 5%; Sunday, 20%. The highest temperature yesterday was 80 and the overnight low was 61.

Sun sets today at 7:43 p.m. and rises Sunday at 5:50 a.m.

Bodies Are Spotted Entangled In Debris

GULFPORT, Miss. (AP) — The search for storm dead shifted seaward today as men and machines labored to roll back enough of Hurricane Camille's wreckage to open Mississippi's coastal strip to the living.

Gov. John Bell Williams ordered boats sent out to try to recover "numerous bodies" that an Army pilot said he spotted entangled in a two-mile-long floating island of debris.

"I counted 40 bodies myself," said Capt. John D. Diggs of Ft. Rucker Ga. "Lord knows how many there were under the debris. If I hadn't seen it myself I wouldn't have believed it. It was a nightmare."

Virginia Floods Leave 60 Dead

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Floodwaters swirled through eastern Virginia today, their danger sharply reduced, after leaving 60 known dead and nearly twice that many missing and feared dead in the western part of the state.

As James River flood waters triggered by Hurricane Camille's torrential rains slowly receded in Richmond, the last major danger point, property damage in western Virginia was reckoned officially at $87 million.

But state authorities stressed that the survey of losses to property of all kinds—industries, private homes and businesses, and highways—had scarcely begun, and said damage estimates could rise precipitously.

The search for bodies went on. More than 110 persons were listed as missing, and Civil Defense officials said it was believed many of them drowned.

Gov. Mills E. Godwin Jr., "shocked and saddened" after a second flight over the hard-hit areas of the mountainous west, said, "It appears that perhaps at least 100 of our citizens have lost their lives."

Hit hardest was Nelson County, where the death toll stood at 44 early today and more than 100 were missing.

Ten persons were missing in Rock Bridge County.

The flood's final fury was vented Friday on low-lying areas of Richmond, the state capital, but in the city the flood waters—reaching 28.6 feet, or 19.5 feet above flood stage—generally were contained.

The James was expected to be back within its banks at Richmond by 11 p.m. today, the Weather Bureau said.

East of Richmond, the James widens and the flood danger dissipates.

Designation of the stricken areas for federal disaster aid was being awaited. It was sure to come. Federal agencies already had begun setting up offices in Buena Vista, a city of 6,500 that was devastated by the first onslaught of the flash floods early Wednesday.

Camille's 190-mile-per-hour winds and tides 20 feet above normal swept the area last Sunday night but the exact number of dead left behind remains unknown. A Civil Defense official here said the total was likely to reach 315.

Recovery

Recovery and identification of the dead has been a major problem for rescue workers, but Williams said "everything has dropped into place" in the massive military-style cleanup operation.

Critics alleging lack of organization by the emergency government don't know the true picture, Williams added. "In four days, we've got everything together."

Roads and highways along the ravaged coastal strip from Biloxi westward to the town of Bay St. Louis, near the Louisiana line, teemed with heavy equipment operated by civilians, soldiers and Navy Seabees, some diverted from their scheduled departure to Vietnam.

In what he called "the first good news" since the hurricane, Williams lifted martial law at Pascagoula, the shipbuilding center on the eastern Mississippi coast, where Camille's damage was less severe.

Martial Law

Martial law was limited to the coastal area from Pascagoula westward, extending inland two miles from the city limits of Biloxi, Gulfport, Mississippi City, Bay Beach, Pass Christian, Bay St. Louis, D'Iberville and Ocean Springs.

The Red Cross said its latest survey of hurricane damage in southeastern Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama included 5,238 homes destroyed with 11,667 sustaining major damage.

Another 28,826 homes sustained minor damage, the Red Cross said.

In addition, 1,007 trailer homes, 569 small businesses and

Harsh New Laws Passed To Curb Czech Disorders

PRAGUE (AP) — The Czechoslovak government rammed through harsh new laws Friday night to curb anti-government and anti-Soviet disorders. The army and police crushed renewed rioting in Brno, the nation's second largest city.

The new laws provide prison terms, fines or loss of jobs for virtually any activity directed against Communism or those in power. Prague Radio said the laws went into effect Friday night and would continue until the end of the year.

Two persons were reported killed and several injured in the second day of rioting in Brno, an industrial city of 350,000 about 130 miles east of Prague. Officials earlier reported two persons killed in Brno Thursday.

Sources said seven Czechoslovak army tanks moved into the downtown area to help riot police disperse some 5,000 demonstrators.

A dusk-to-dawn curfew was imposed after the rioters were dispersed.

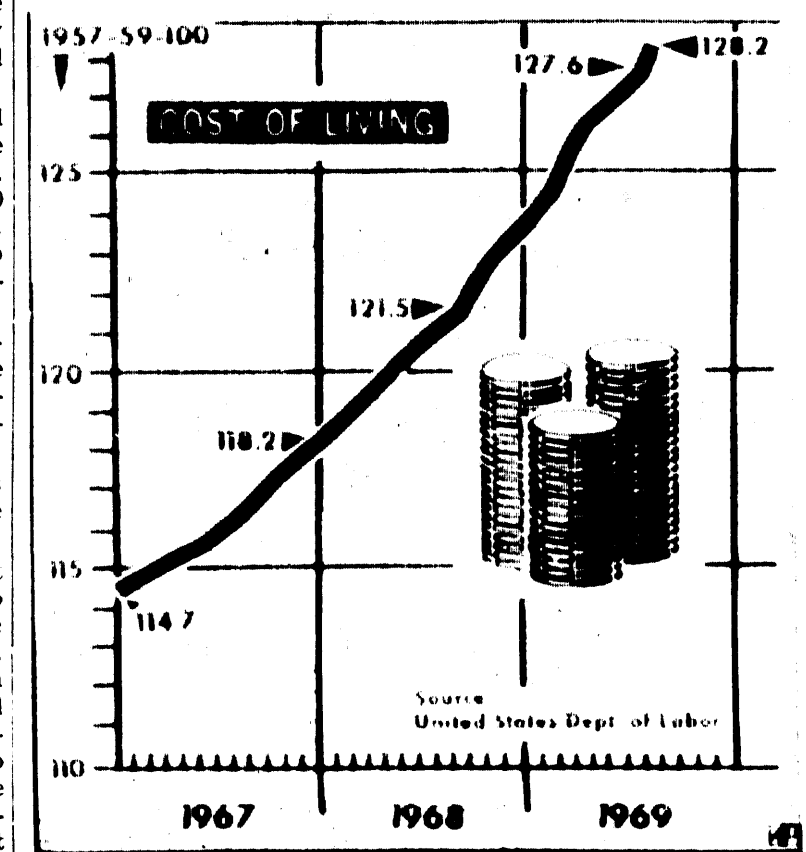

The Czechoslovak Communist party newspaper Rude Pravo said today that 815 persons were arrested in Prague Thursday, including 66 foreigners—"a large part" of whom were said to be Americans and West Germans. Rude Pravo said two demonstrators were killed in the capital, and 313 persons were injured. It claimed that all but five of the injured were police, soldiers or militiamen.

The new law-and-order measures were adopted unanimously by the steering committee of the National Assembly at the demand of the Communist party. They were signed by President Ludvik Svoboda, Premier Oldrich Cernik and Assembly Chairman Alexander Dubcek. The full assembly is in recess.

Prague Radio, which broadcast the "extraordinary measures" several times Friday night, said they would be used not only against those who violate order or threaten peaceful working conditions "but also against those who incite such action or support it."

The demonstrations marked the first anniversary of the Aug. 20-21 Soviet invasion that crushed the reform movement led by Dubcek. Official broadcasts and newspapers have not mentioned the anniversary in their reports of the "activities of anti-Socialist elements."

THE COST OF LIVING INDEX rose to 128.2 for July, five-tenths of one per cent over June, according to the U. S. Labor Department Friday. The increase resulted primarily from higher prices for food and services, but practically everything else was up, too. (AP Wirephoto Chart)

Second Honolulu Church Refuge

HONOLULU (AP) — A second Honolulu church has opened its doors to servicemen seeking symbolic sanctuary from military authorities.

Three servicemen switched churches secretly Friday, and two servicemen joined the old group, bringing the total in refuge to 24.

The three who left the Church of the Crossroads, where the protest began more than a week ago, slipped out quietly in the afternoon and were driven to the Unitarian Church of Honolulu, about four miles away.

The servicemen, all admittedly absent without leave from their units, are protesting the Vietnam War and the military and have vowed to stay at the churches until military authorities come to get them.

Petrone Is New Apollo Director

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The veteran rocketman who will guide the Apollo program into its exploration of the moon says one of his biggest tasks will be to maintain a standard of excellence despite the loss of thousands of workers.

"To keep a high level of performance, we're going to have to put out that extra drive," said Rocco A. Petrone, named Friday as the new program director of the Apollo program.

He succeeds Lt. Gen. Samuel C. Phillips, who returns to the Air Force Sept. 1 to take command of the Space and Missile Systems Organization.

Petrone has been director of launch operations at NASA's Kennedy Space Center for three years and was launch director for the five manned Apollo flights that culminated in the Apollo 11 moon-landing mission.

Phillips is one of several key Apollo personnel who have left the program since the landing. Some have shifted to industry and others to work on future man-in-space projects such as development of space stations and low-cost space shuttle vehicles.

With the Apollo launch schedule reduced from one every two months to one every four or five months, about 15,000 of the nation's 190,000 space workers will be laid off in the next year. Employment in the program reached a peak of 420,000 in 1966.

"Naturally, I'm concerned," Petrone said. "But we have dedicated people and I'm certain we can maintain the same discipline, quality and performance that we've seen in the last two years."

With Apollo 11 we proved that men can go to the moon and work there," Petrone said. "Now we will begin to explore the moon."

45,000 Acres Of Dry Land Are Blackened

LOS ANGELES (AP) — More than 1,800 residents fled their homes today as fires rampaged unchecked over a huge swath of remote and relatively unpopulated brush and grasslands in Southern California.

An estimated 1,500 persons were ordered out of their homes during the night in northern San Diego County where fire had blackened at least 45,000 acres, officials said, in the wilting, late-summer dry heat.

The biggest fire started Friday on Camp Pendleton, about 15 miles south of the Western White House, but it was burning eastward today and said to be no threat to the summer seaside residence where President Nixon has been staying.

No injuries were reported. Officials said they could not stop a 12,000-acre fire near Fallbrook 85 miles south of Los Angeles from a valley containing several hundred homes—including some in the $100,000 range. A trailer park was also threatened, officials said.

Homes Lost
In El Cajon, 40 miles south of Camp Pendleton, a small 90-acre fire consumed six houses before it was put out.

Three major fires still burned uncontrolled in San Diego County and two others cracked over parched areas of San Bernardino County east of Los Angeles.

Fire fighters were hampered by near record temperatures that hit 118 Friday in some Southern California desert towns and by humidity that sagged to a very low 10 per cent even along the coast.

Winds fanned the Camp Pendleton fire—about 80 miles south of Los Angeles—across 20,000 acres of dry brush and into the adjacent Cleveland National Forest, where it burned 5,000 timbered acres.

Los Angeles County had escaped brush fires so far although residents suffered through a high temperature Friday of 97 degrees as a third straight smog alert was called for the day.

Evacuation centers sprang into existence for fleeing San Diego County residents. Some slept on cots and blankets in fire department stations and others crowded into the homes of friends and relatives. The Red Cross was giving help.

No cause has been determined for most of the fires although officials cited dry conditions. Investigators said three boys playing with matches set one of the San Bernardino County fires.

As usual, no significant rain has fallen since spring.

For Southern California, it is only the beginning of the fire and smog and hot weather season. Some of the hottest, driest weather comes in September and October.

Indians Want Hickel's Scalp

ONONDAGA RESERVATION, N.Y. (AP) — Indians from 46 tribes across North America have called for the immediate removal from office of Secretary of the Interior Walter Hickel.

A statement signed by leaders of traditionalist movements on reservations said all Indians would be urged "to rise against each and any proposal, contract or future discussions" with the U.S. Department of the Interior until Hickel resigns or is removed.

They said Hickel has "destroyed the faith of all Indians toward the U.S. Department of the Interior by his high-handed, inconsiderate and illegal theft of native Alaskan, Eskimoo and Indian tribal lands, rivers, hunting and fishing rights, timber, oil and gas and mineral resources."

In a separate statement, the chiefs of the Onondaga nation, the strongest of the tribes remaining in the historic Iroquois League, urged all the people of the country to "see Mr. Hickel as one of the most dangerous of men to have power and jurisdiction over the lands, waters, air and natural resources..."

Her Missing Husband Worked With Berets

SAIGON (AP) — A Vietnamese woman who asked the U.S. Embassy about her missing husband—who she says worked with the Green Berets—received an "oral" reply, an embassy spokesman said today. He refused to say what she was told.

The woman, Pham Kim Leim, 34, claimed that her husband had the same name as a Vietnamese national who has been mentioned in connection with the arrest of eight Green Berets, the elite Special Forces outfit.

The slender mother of two presented a petition to the office of the South Vietnamese government Thursday, asking whether her husband was dead or alive. She also presented carbon copies of the petition to the U.S. military commander in Vietnam and to the U.S. Embassy.

A spokesman for the embassy said an embassy officer then visited the woman's home in response to her query.

She was not at home when a reporter inquired later about the embassy's reply.

But her father-in-law, Thai Khac Que, said the representative told her to send her petition to the headquarters of the staff judge advocate, U.S. Military Assistance Command (MACV).

The woman said her husband, Chuyen Thai Khac, worked with the U.S. Special Forces at Tay Ninh as an interpreter. She said she last saw him the morning of June 13.

The day before, her husband said he had been "strapped in an electric chair and given a lie detector test" at a Green Beret camp in Saigon, she said. "He told me, 'They treated me like a VC (Viet Cong). They asked me questions like I was a VC,'" she said.

A preliminary investigation of whether the eight Green Berets should be tried for murder ended Thursday at the Army's complex at Long Binh, 12 miles northeast of Saigon.

No decision has been announced.

The president reached the halfway point in his four-week vacation at the Western White House with no public activities scheduled today or Sunday.

His trip to San Francisco for talks with Park on Thursday and Friday ended without any surprises.

The joint statement issued as they departed with a ceremonial handshake and farewell gave assurances that the United States intends to keep its 50,000 Air Force and Army men on duty in South Korea, will keep its commitments to a 1954 mutual defense treaty there, and will "continue to consult closely" on the situation in Vietnam, where South Korea has 47,000 troops.

THE COST OF LIVING INDEX rose to 128.2 for July, five-fifths of one per cent over June, according to the U. S. Labor Department Friday. The increase resulted primarily from higher prices for food and services, but practically everything else was up, too. (AP Wirephoto Chart)

Petrone Is New Apollo Director

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The veteran rocketman who will guide the Apollo program into its exploration of the moon says one of his biggest tasks will be to maintain a standard of excellence despite the loss of thousands of workers.

"To keep a high level of performance, we're going to have to put out that extra drive," said Rocco A. Petrone, named Friday as the new program director of the Apollo project.

He succeeds Lt. Gen. Samuel C. Phillips, who returns to the Air Force Sept. 1 to take command of the Space and Missile Systems Organization.

Petrone has been director of launch operations at NASA's Kennedy Space Center for three years and was launch director for the five manned Apollo flights that culminated in the Apollo 11 moon-landing mission.

Phillips is one of several key Apollo personnel who have left

Some have shifted to industry and others to work on future man-in-space projects such as development of space stations and low-cost space shuttle vehicles.

With the Apollo launch schedule reduced from one every two months to one every four or five months, about 15,000 of the nation's 190,000 space workers will be laid off in the next year. Employment in the program reached a peak of 420,000 in 1966.

"Naturally, I'm concerned," Petrone said. "But we have dedicated people and I'm certain we can maintain the same discipline, quality and performance that we've seen in the last two years."

With Apollo 11 we proved that men can go to the moon and work there," Petrone said. "Now we will begin to explore the moon."

45,000 Acres Of Dry Land Are Blackened

LOS ANGELES (AP) — More than 1,800 residents fled their homes today as fires rampaged unchecked over a huge swath of remote and relatively unpopulated brush and grasslands in Southern California.

An estimated 1,500 persons were ordered out of their homes during the night in northern San Diego County where fire had blackened at least 45,000 acres, officials said, in the wilting, late-summer dry heat.

The biggest fire started Friday on Camp Pendleton about 15 miles south of the Western White House, but it was burning eastward today and said to be no threat to the summer seaside residence where President Nixon has been staying.

No injuries were reported. Officials said they could not stop a 12,000-acre fire near Fallbrook 85 miles south of Los Angeles from a valley containing several hundred homes—including some in the $100,000 range. A trailer park was also threatened, officials said.

Homes Lost

In El Cajon, 40 miles south of Camp Pendleton, a small 90-acre fire consumed six houses before it was put out.

Three major fires still burned uncontrolled in San Diego County and two others cracked over parched areas of San Bernardino County east of Los Angeles.

Fire fighters were hampered by near record temperatures that hit 118 Friday in some Southern California desert towns and by humidity that sagged to a very low 10 per cent even along the coast.

Winds fanned the Camp Pendleton fire—about 80 miles south of Los Angeles—across 20,000 acres of dry brush and into the adjacent Cleveland National Forest, where it burned 5,000 timbered acres.

Los Angeles County had escaped brush fires so far although residents suffered through a high temperature Friday of 97 degrees as a third straight smog alert was called for the day.

Evacuation Centers

Evacuation centers sprang into existence for fleeing San Diego County residents. Some slept on cots and blankets in fire department stations and others crowded into the homes of friends and relatives. The Red Cross was giving help.

No cause has been determined for most of the fires although officials cited dry conditions. Investigators said three boys playing with matches set one of the San Bernardino County fires.

As usual, no significant rain has fallen since spring.

For Southern California, it is only the beginning of the fire and smog and hot weather season. Some of the hottest, driest weather comes in September and October.

Indians Want Hickel's Scalp

ONONDAGA RESERVATION, N.Y. (AP) — Indians from 48 tribes across North America have called for the immediate removal from office of Secretary of the Interior Walter Hickel.

A statement signed by leaders of traditionalist movements on reservations said all Indians were urged "to rise against each and any proposal, contract or future discussions" with the U.S. Department of the Interior until Hickel resigns or is removed.

They said Hickel has "destroyed the faith of all Indians toward the U.S. Department of the Interior by his high-handed, inconsiderate and illegal theft of native Alaskan, Eskimoo and Indian tribal lands, rivers, hunting and fishing rights, timber, oil and gas and mineral resources."

In a separate statement, the chiefs of the Onondaga nation, the strongest of the tribes remaining in the historic Iroquois League, urged all the people of the country to "see Mr. Hickel as one of the most dangerous of men to have power and jurisdiction over the lands, waters, air and natural resources..."

U.S. Could Effectively Cut 4 Thailand Bases

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States could continue effective air attacks on the enemy in South Vietnam by using just two of six air bases in Thailand if a general reduction of U.S. forces is ordered, say qualified American sources.

These authorities also suggest there could be a substantial cut in the U.S. support forces now stationed in Thailand. Of the 49,200 Americans assigned there, more than one-fourth have support—not combat—duties.

These subjects will be discussed soon when American and Thai officials begin consultations in Bangkok on a general reduction of U.S. forces in Thailand.

The State Department revealed on Friday that Thai Foreign Minister Thanat Khoman has called in U.S. Ambassador Leonard Unger to say Thailand was prepared to discuss the matter.

Angered
Thanat, apparently angered by the continuing controversy in the United States over a secret military contingency plan, was quoted as saying: "The best way to insure non-involvement of American manpower would be for Washington to withdraw the forces."

He said American leaders like Chairman J. W. Fulbright of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee apparently "did not believe their own government's statements" that U.S. manpower was in Thailand because of the Vietnam war and would not be used for combat duty against guerrillas in Thailand.

The State Department acknowledged that the Thai foreign minister had taken the initiative in suggesting discussions of lowering the level of U.S. forces in Thailand.

"We, for our part, are willing to enter into these discussions," said State Department Press Officer Robert J. McCloskey.

Withdrawal
The spokesman added there are about 48,000 U.S. military personnel—75 per cent Air Force, 25 per cent Army—in Thailand. In addition, 1,200 members of the U.S. Military Assistance Command are involved in training, assisting and advising Thai forces.

The U.S. Air Force is operating from six major bases which belong to the Thai government. U.S. officials suggest the U.S. would continue flights from Udorn and the big B-52 base at U-Tapao without sacrificing effectiveness in the Vietnam war operations. The other four bases—Ubon, Korat, Takli and Nakhon Phanom—could conceivably be shut down.

No figures were placed on the number of American military personnel which could be withdrawn from Thailand, but U.S. officials indicate the reduction could be substantial without harming present operations.

Meanwhile, it appears likely that Senate criticism of the secret contingency arrangement will shrink now that Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird has voiced disapproval of the five-year-old plan.

Australian Held For Mosque Fire

JERUSALEM (AP) — A hand grenade exploded today in a Gaza Strip vegetable market that remained open during a general strike over the fire at Islam's holy Al Aksam Mosque. Two Arabs were killed and 15 injured.

All other stores in the teeming Gaza Strip remained closed. The grenade exploded at a market in Rafiah, in the southern part of the Israeli-held strip.

Israeli security forces were on the alert and most Arabs remained indoors in the strip, in towns along the occupied west bank and in Jerusalem.

Troops and police patrolled near the walls and in the narrow alleys of the Old City. No clashes were reported, but the entire area was tense.

The fire Thursday burned out one wing of the 1,400-year-old mosque—the Moslem world's third holiest.

Arrested on Friday in connection with the blaze was Michael Denis William Rohen, 28, a sheep shearer from Australia.

The blood Australian was ordered held 15 days while an investigation is conducted. A Moslem gate keeper has alleged that he saw Rohen running from the mosque at the time of the fire, police informants said.

Rohen is a member of the Church of God, a Protestant denomination.

Rohen was described by fellow members of the kibbutz in which he had been living as "a fervent Christian" who observed all the Christian holidays.

Rohen was living on the kibbutz (farm settlement) to study Hebrew.

He spent much of his free time immersed in the Bible, which he saw as "his mission," the state radio said.

The Moslem world has reacted sharply to the mosque fire, which was blamed on Israel.

Despite the arrest of a suspect, many Arabs in the West Bank and in Jerusalem had reservations. "They want to get more details on the man," said one Arab journalist. "Where he spent his time, who did he spend it with."

The Israelis said they hoped the strike would be called to express sorrow over damage to the mosque rather than as a protest against Israel.

Church 'Sanctuary' Scares AWOL Sailor

HONOLULU (AP) — A 17-year-old AWOL sailor who voluntarily surrendered to Navy authorities Friday denounced the symbolic "sanctuary" he left at a Honolulu church as "a movement to overthrow the government."

Seaman Apprentice Arthur D. Parker, of Holland, Mich., said other servicemen who took refuge at the Church of the Crossroads are "beginning to think about turning themselves in."

Parker told newsmen, "it isn't a sanctuary any more. It's become a movement to overthrow the government and I don't stand for that; neither do a lot of the others."

"Even though I don't like the military, I would rather be part of them than what's down at the church," he said. "They scare me now."

On leaving the church Thursday, he said the main reason he joined the protesters was "the dehumanization of the Navy."

Second Thoughts

Parker said he had second thoughts about his decision after receiving letters from his family and girl friend back home, and decided to turn himself in after talking to an Army chaplain. He was taken to the Pearl Harbor brig.

The number of young men who have taken refuge at the church stayed at 22 Thursday when another soldier joined the group of young men protesting the Vietnam war and the military Thursday. He was Pfc. Rodger Edens, 19, of Wichita, Kans., who said he left his unit at Schofield Barracks several days ago.

Parker is the second man to quit the group. The first was Marine Pfc. Vincent Ventimiglia, 19, of New York City, who was arrested Wednesday at a Waikiki Hotel where he had gone to have dinner with his parents.

Violation

City officials, meanwhile, are waiting to see if the church will comply with a notice of violation of zoning ordinances and clear the church.

City building superintendent Edward Hirata said the church was given 10 days to comply with the notice of violation, which was issued Wednesday. The housing of the men and a large group of supporters in the church's main worship hall violates city zoning ordinances, he said.

The state Health Department also cited the church for violation of health standards because no bathing facilities are available for the group.

The Rev. Mitsuo Aoki, moderator of the church's executive board, said the church is "looking into" the matter, but hasn't made any decision yet. Aoki is a religion professor at the University of Hawaii.

Leaders of the Resistance, an antidraft group which is supporting the men, indicated that the "sanctuary" may be moved if the church is forced to comply with the building department order.

The church, located near the University of Hawaii, is affiliated with the United Church of Christ. It has no regular minister and is operated by the executive board.

Plymouth Division Markets Imports

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. announced Friday that its Chrysler-Plymouth Division is to handle marketing of Simca and Sunbeam automobiles henceforth in the United States.

Increased sales activity in the import market was cited as the reason for assigning the marketing responsibility to a national sales organization, a company spokesman said.

Sales of the two Chrysler imports, he added, have been running ahead of last year despite late production and a dock strike on the east coast.

Marketing of Simca and Sunbeam cars previously had been handled by a separate Chrysler division, Simca-Rootes.

Chrysler said the new organizational alignment would provide the imported products with the support and services of the industry's third largest sales division.

Donald Lander, Simca-Rootes general manager, has been named manager of Import Vehicle Operations for the Chrysler-Plymouth Division.

The announcement of the reshuffling of Chrysler's two European imports came as Japan's Ministry of International Trade and Imports was reported to have decided to delay approval of a proposal involving the Japanese auto industry.

Under the plan, Chrysler and Mitsubishi Heavy Industries Co. of Japan would engage in a joint venture to produce passenger cars in Japan until the end of March 1972.

The newspaper Asahi said the ministry had indicated, however, that it may approve the establishment of a joint firm between the two companies to handle export and import of automobiles.

A Chrysler spokesman said the company had no comment on the Japanese report.

Harold Boster Dies In Trenary

Harold T. Boster, 75, of Trenary died yesterday evening at 6:30 in the Munising Memorial Hospital following a 3 week illness.

He was born on Jan. 6, 1894 in Spooner, Wis. Mr. Boster has been a resident of Trenary for the past 9 years and was formerly of Madison Heights, Mich. and was employed at the Arrow Overhaul and Linen Supply Co. in Detroit.

He has been retired since 1959 and is a WWI veteran. Surviving are his wife, Vera; daughters, Janice and Margaret; and one son Harold all of Trenary.

Friends may call after 2 p. m. Sunday at the Bowerman Halifax Funeral Home in Munising. Complete funeral services will be held at the funeral home on Monday at 1:30 p. m. with Rev. Kohns officiating. Burial will be in the Greenwood Cemetery in Superior, Wis.

More people get more news from newspapers than all other sources combined.

New Teachers For Trenary

TRENARY — Supt. George Hager of the Trenary public schools announced today that his school system will open Sept. 2.

Mrs. Sandra Krause will be the new kindergarten and first grade teacher. She will replace Mrs. Marilyn DeRoucher. Mrs. Krause is a graduate of Northern Michigan University where she majored in elementary education.

Miss Barbara Gembolis will be the new fourth and fifth grade teacher. She is also a Northern graduate and came here from Iron Mountain where she taught last year.

Supt. Hager said that teachers will meet at 8:30 a. m. on Sept. 2 to plan and organize the 1969-70 school program. Registration and abbreviated sessions for all students, except kindergartners, will start at 12:30 p. m.

Kindergartners who were not enrolled at the pre-school clinic on April 17 will be registered on Sept. 3, the first day they report to school, Hager said. He reminded parents that in order for children to enter kindergarten this fall they must be five years old prior to Dec. 1, 1969. Children starting school for the first time must have their age verified by birth certificates and must submit certification from their family physician that they have received a physical examination and necessary immunizations, unless this was done at the pre-school clinic.

Hager said that bus routes will remain essentially the same as last year and will follow the same time schedule. The noon kindergarten pick-up run will begin from school at 12 a. m.

According to Hager, the hot lunch program will remain even though a sizeable debt is being carried over from last year's program. He said that students will pay $1.75 per week and will continue to receive special milk without charge.

Briefly Told

The Escanaba Exchange Club will hold an annual auction soon, and are looking for items to be donated. Call 786-4118 or 786-0231 for pickup.

Victor Simic, 1330 Stephenson Ave., Escanaba, reported to State Police that someone broke a window and entered his cabin on County Rd. 511, Stonington Peninsula. Several items were reported missing.

Troopers from the Gladstone Post issued citations Friday to William Ettenhofer, 321 N. 12th Escanaba, improper turn; George Cody, 313 N. 11th, Escanaba, speeding (70-55); Walter Kenavara, Lansing, speeding (70-55); Carl Lee, 114 S. 12th St., Gladstone, no operator's license; and Dennis Peterson, Trout Creek, expired chauffeurs license.

Church 'Sanctuary' Scares AWOL Sailor

HONOLULU (AP) — A 17-year-old AWOL sailor who voluntarily surrendered to Navy authorities Friday denounced the symbolic "sanctuary" he left at a Honolulu church as "a movement to overthrow the government."

Seaman Apprentice Arthur D. Parker, of Holland, Mich., said other servicemen who took refuge at the Church of the Crossroads are "beginning to think about turning themselves in."

Parker told newsmen, "It isn't a sanctuary any more. It's become a movement to overthrow the government and I don't stand for that; neither do a lot of the others."

"Even though I don't like the military, I would rather be part of them than what's down at the church," he said. "They scare me now."

On leaving the church Thursday, he said the main reason he joined the protesters was "the dehumanization of the Navy."

Second Thoughts

Parker said he had second thoughts about his decision after receiving letters from his family and girl friend back home, and decided to turn himself in after talking to an Army chaplain. He was taken to the Pearl Harbor brig.

The number of young men who have taken refuge at the church stayed at 22 Thursday when another soldier joined the group of young men protesting the Vietnam war and the military Thursday. He was Pfc. Rodger Edens, 19, of Wichita, Kans., who said he left his unit at Schofield Barracks several days ago.

Parker is the second man to quit the group. The first was Marine Pfc. Vincent Ventimiglia, 19, of New York City, who was arrested Wednesday at a Waikiki Hotel where he had gone to have dinner with his parents.

Violation

City officials, meanwhile, are waiting to see if the church will comply with a notice of violation of zoning ordinances and clear the church.

City building superintendent Edward Hirata said the church was given 10 days to comply with the notice of violation, which was issued Wednesday. The housing of the men and a large group of supporters in the church's main worship hall violates city zoning ordinances, he said.

The state Health Department also cited the church for violation of health standards because no bathing facilities are available for the group.

The Rev. Mitsuo Aoki, moderator of the church's executive board, said the church is "looking into" the matter, but hasn't made any decision yet. Aoki is a religion professor at the University of Hawaii.

Leaders of the Resistance, an antidraft group which is supporting the men, indicated that the "sanctuary" may be moved if the church is forced to comply with the building department order.

The church, located near the University of Hawaii, is affiliated with the United Church of Christ. It has no regular minister and is operated by the executive board.

Plymouth Division Markets Imports

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. announced Friday that its Chrysler-Plymouth Division is to handle marketing of Simca and Sunbeam automobiles henceforth in the United States.

Increased sales activity in the import market was cited as the reason for assigning the marketing responsibility to a national sales organization, a company spokesman said.

Sales of the two Chrysler imports, he added, have been running ahead of last year despite late production and a dock strike on the east coast.

Marketing of Simca and Sunbeam cars previously had been handled by a separate Chrysler division, Simca-Rootes.

Chrysler said the new organizational alignment would provide the imported products with the support and services of the industry's third largest sales division.

Donald Lander, Simca-Rootes general manager, has been named manager of Import Vehicle Operations for the Chrysler-Plymouth Division.

The announcement of the reshuffling of Chrysler's two European imports came as Japan's Ministry of International Trade and Imports was reported to have decided to delay approval of a proposal involving the Japanese auto industry.

Under the plan, Chrysler and Mitsubishi Heavy Industries Co. of Japan would engage in a joint venture to produce passenger cars in Japan until the end of March 1972.

The newspaper Asahi said the ministry had indicated, however, that it may approve the establishment of a joint firm between the two companies to handle export and import of automobiles.

A Chrysler spokesman said the company had no comment on the Japanese report.

New Teachers For Trenary

TRENARY — Supt. George Hager of the Trenary public schools announced today that his school system will open Sept. 2.

Mrs. Sandra Krause will be the new kindergarten and first grade teacher. She will replace Mrs. Marilyn DeRoucher. Mrs. Krause is a graduate of Northern Michigan University where she majored in elementary education.

Miss Barbara Gembolis will be the new fourth and fifth grade teacher. She is also a Northern graduate and came here from Iron Mountain where she taught last year.

Supt. Hager said that teachers will meet at 8:30 a.m. on Sept. 2 to plan and organize the 1969-70 school program. Registration and abbreviated sessions for all students, except kindergartners, will start at 12:30 p.m.

Kindergartners who were not enrolled at the pre-school clinic on April 17 will be registered on Sept. 3, the first day they report to school, Hager said. He reminded parents that in order for children to enter kindergarten this fall they must be five years old prior to Dec. 1, 1969. Children starting school for the first time must have their age verified by birth certificates and must submit certification from their family physician that they have received a physical examination and necessary immunizations, unless this was done at the pre-school clinic.

Hager said that bus routes will remain essentially the same as last year and will follow the same time schedule. The noon kindergarten pick-up run will begin from school at 12 a.m.

According to Hager, the hot lunch program will remain even though a sizeable debt is being carried over from last year's program. He said that students will pay $1.75 per week and will continue to receive special milk without charge.

State Police Tell Transfers

LANSING (AP) Cpl. David A. Leik of Ypsilanti was among eight state policemen whose promotions or transfers were announced Friday.

Leik is the uncle by marriage of John Norman Collins, the Eastern Michigan University student accused of killing Karen Sue Beineman. He was promoted to sergeant and assigned to Brighton, succeeding Sgt. James H. Tageson as assistant post commander.

Tageson is to take command at Tekonsha, succeeding Sgt. Andy F. Palik, who recently drowned.

John R. Clisch, a detective in the East Lansing records division, has been promoted to detective sergeant.

Raymond R. Beamish, a trooper at Stephenson, has been promoted to corporal and assigned to Ypsilanti.

Cpl. John T. Butler, promoted to that rank at New Buffalo, is assigned to Bay City.

Other transfers include troopers Michael C. Arrowsmith from Ithaca to Sault Ste. Marie, David E. Heltz from New Buffalo to Cadillac and Gary T. Rampey from Brighton to New Buffalo.

Loren L. Urlaub, a trooper on military leave has been assigned to Ithaca.

State Civil Service Force 12% Nonwhite

LANSING (AP)—A racial survey of state employees covered by the Michigan Civil Service system shows about 12 per cent are nonwhites, the Civil Service Department reported Friday.

The survey, conducted annually since 1964, indicates an 88 per cent increase in the number of nonwhite persons employed by the state since that first year of the study, the department said.

A total of 5,109 or 11.7 per cent of the total 43,610 classified employees this year are nonwhites. In 1964, the figures were 2,711 nonwhites or 8.6 per cent of the total 31,565 state employees covered by the system.

Of Michigan's estimated 8.8 million population next year the Civil Rights Commission has estimated nonwhites will comprise 11 per cent. That indicates state employment of racial minorities is exceeding population ratios.

But "a rather disturbing situation" has developed, the department said. Its figures show minority group women employees far outnumber men. Of the state's white employees, 57 per cent are men, but only 33 per cent of the nonwhite employees are men.

The number of nonwhite male employees has declined from 1964's 46 per cent, the report said.

By contrast, nonwhite women employees have increased from slightly less to slightly more than one half of the total minority-group employees, the report said.

A comparison of salaries indicates the average minority group employee earns $801 less than his white counterpart — $6,377 compared with $7,178, the report said. That gap has remained roughly constant through the years since the study began.

Wages have increased for all employees, however. In 1964 whites earned an average salary of $5,513, nonwhites earned an average of $4,714.

Geographical comparisons, the report said, show an overwhelming concentration of minority group employees in southeastern Michigan.

Wayne County has 63 per cent of all nonwhite state employees.

Other counties with at least 10 per cent of minority employees are Berrien, Calhoun, Muskegon, Oakland and Washtenaw.

The principal agencies employing nonwhites are the state's various homes, hospitals and training schools, departments of state, police, natural resources and correction.

Governor Fills Civil Rights Post

LANSING (AP)—Gov. William Milliken has asked the newest member of the Michigan Civil Rights Commission to "tell me where you think we're not moving" in the area of migrant problems.

Edward Louis Barrera, named Friday by Milliken to a vacancy on the commission—promised to "communicate the hopes and aspirations of the Mexican-American in this state."

Barrera, 35, of Saginaw said he wanted to "work for the solution of long neglected problems."

He termed the governor's action "further evidence of his concern for the civil rights of every American" and immediately called on Milliken to appoint other Spanish-speaking people to posts in state government.

First Step

Barrera said he hoped local government, business and industry would follow Milliken's example.

Milliken said the appointment was a "first step" toward helping migrants and Mexican-Americans and said he sensed "an increasing awareness in this state that migrants, among other groups, have problems."

"Too many migrants in Michigan live under adverse and sometimes tragic circumstances," the governor said. "Greater efforts must be taken to improve their conditions, particularly in the fields of health, housing and education. It is not a problem limited to migrants," Milliken added. "Many migrants have already dropped out of the migrant stream and become residents and others will continue to do so at an increasing rate."

"A high percentage of these are Mexican-Americans, many of them with limited English language ability, and it is important that state programs be geared to their special problems."

LaRosa Unids

Barrera's presence on the commission, Milliken said, "should help us meet the problems of this growing minority group."

Barrera, whose appointment is subject to Senate confirmation, is a member of the Saginaw Latin American movement and has been education committee chairman of the Saginaw Human Relations Commission. Since 1965, he has been Saginaw County district manager of the State Farm Insurance Companies of Bloomington, Ill.

He has done organizational work in Michigan for the Inter-Agency Committee on Mexican-American Affairs, a cabinet-level committee established by President Johnson. Barrera also helped arrange a midwest conference on Mexican, American and Puerto Rican affairs in Michigan in October 1968.

Sense And Sen. Mack

After the Senate passed Senate Bill 428, conservationists in Michigan became alarmed over a provision in the bill that would have forced the state to put vast acreages of public recreation lands up for sale.

Introduced by State Sen. Joseph Mack, Ironwood Democrat, the bill would require the Department of Natural Resources to compile a list of all tax-reverted lands in its possession, to offer these lands for public auction and to pay taxes of 45 cents an acre (as compared with 20 cents now being paid) on all lands not sold.

Almost no one argues against the provision to raise the payments to townships by the state from 20 cents to 45 cents. But everyone who is concerned with outdoor recreation in Michigan must protest any forced offering to sell recreation lands that belong to the people of Michigan. Included in these tax-reverted lands are about 3,000,000 acres — much of it in the Upper Peninsula — on which the public may now hunt, fish, camp, hike, etc. without charge. Some of the lands lie within state parks. Others are in state forests and recreation areas. If these lands were placed on sale, private individuals or groups could acquire them and bar the public.

Sen. Mack appeared before the Michigan Natural Resources Commission at its monthly meeting in Marquette and asked that group to support his bill, although it is the Legislature — and not the commission — that holds the authority to raise the tax payments on state-owned lands. During his remarks to the commission, Sen. Mack said, "I did not advocate sale of land" by introducing the bill.

This is absolute nonsense. The bill clearly provides for the public sale of land. Because the senator apparently is attempting to deny the language in his own bill, Section 2 of Senate Bill 428 is quoted herewith:

"Within 90 days of the date of the compilation of the list, the department shall announce a time and place when all lands on the list shall be offered for sale at public sale. Each description of land shall be sold to the highest bidder if the bid is more than the cash selling price determined by the department."

Commission Chairman August Scholle told Mack: "As I read your act, it certainly could have been construed to mean that we could be forced to sell land against our will."

Another commissioner, E. M. Laitala of Hancock, who has led the fight to prevent the sale of public land, remarked "I speak and read three languages fluently, and I read the bill as it passed the Senate many times. It plainly mandated us to put all tax-reverted state lands on the auction block."

Because of this, every sportsman's organization in the state should have gone on record in opposition to the provision in Mack's bill that could have put the public's land in the hands of private owners.

Fortunately, the bill was amended in the House Taxation Committee to eliminate the compulsory auction of the public land.

It is its present form, it will increase the payments to townships on state land by 25 cents an acre but without forcing the public to offer this land to private interests. The Upper Peninsula, with its large public ownership, will benefit financially from the bill if it is enacted, and naturally a lot of townships and school districts have endorsed the proposal.

As Scholle told Mack, the commission is sympathetic to the need for additional revenue in poorer districts of the state. He ventured to predict the bill will be approved by the Legislature.

The public can be thankful that the bill does not now contain Mack's land sale clause. The people of Michigan deserve better treatment than that.

Medicaid Mess

While the price of virtually everything is going up, few expenses are rising as fast as the cost of federal medical care.

Medicaid, which provides federal funds to the medically indigent, has been the primary stimulus in inflating health costs. A staff member of the Senate Finance Committee, after extensive hearings, reports that "there is very little control of the program at either federal state or local levels with respect to cost control."

An undersecretary of Health, Education and Welfare puts part of the blame on lack of administrative review, pointing out that only 100 people supervise the entire Medicaid program. He says the original law was constructed so loosely that almost any bill submitted by a licensed practitioner must be paid by the federal government.

The results are that Medicaid expenses have gone up 57 per cent, from $3.5 billion in fiscal 1968 to an estimated $5.5 billion for the current fiscal year which began July 1.

The number of patients, however, is expected to increase at a one-third lower rate for the same period.

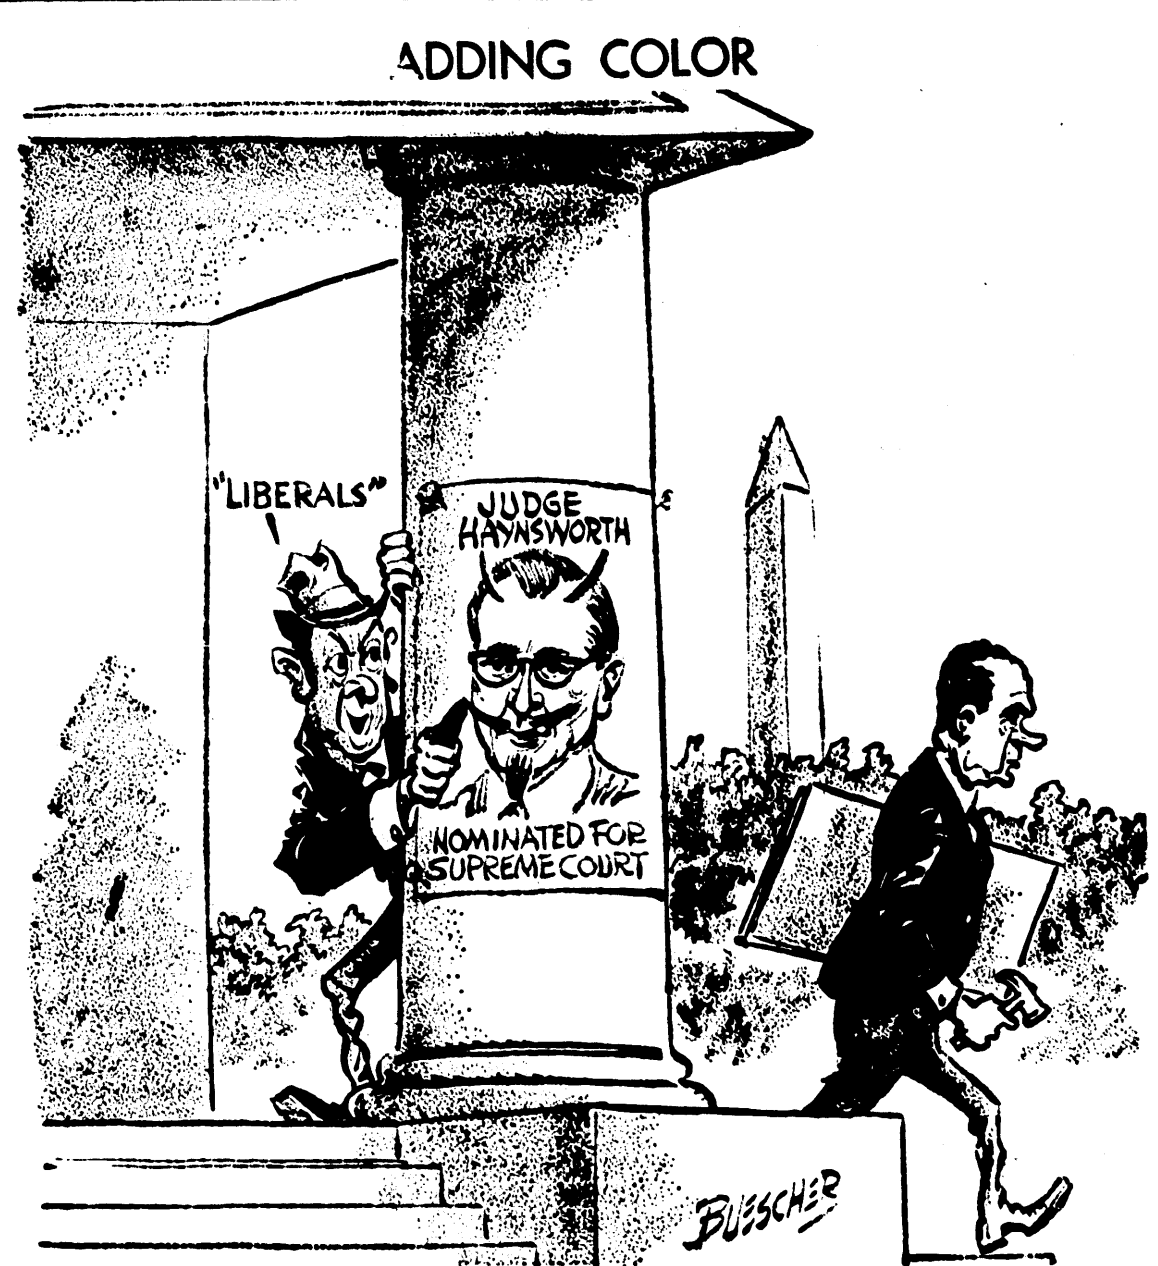

The taxpayer has gotten caught in a two-way squeeze. Not only must he pay the rising costs of Medicaid, but he finds that this federal health care hike also is pushing up the expense of private medicine as well.

The result in Congress has been the typical response to a welfare program whose costs have gone up: Demands to put more people under Medicaid and tighten up the standards.

This formula in the past has resulted in still further rises in costs — economies more than offset by expansion of scope.

Balanced Truth In Black-White Areas

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

The University of Connecticut plans an "Orientation Week" for new students in early September. As part of the program, one evening will be devoted to a discussion of black-white relations, with participation by faculty and administrators.

The summer list of "background reading" suggested for the participants in the "black-white" dialogue consists of four books, "Soul on Ice" by Eldridge Cleaver, "The Other America" by Michael Harrington, "The Rhetoric of Black Power" by Robert L. Scott and Wayne Brockriede, and "The Autobiography of Malcolm X."

I have nothing against the idea of beginning with the four titles that are described as a "proper sampling," but if such books define the area of "relevance" in black-white relations we are obviously in for a pretty bleak future.

Cleaver is currently "on the lam" in Africa, a fugitive from American court proceedings; Michael Harrington is an avowed socialist; Malcolm X was a Black Muslim. It could be that Cleaver has been badly victimized by life and the U.S. Establishment, and that Harrington's statistical picture of poverty is true within the context of a submerged tenth. Moreover, Malcolm X's leadership had its positive side; his inheritors and followers have most praiseworthy attitudes when it comes to keeping ghetto adolescents out of the hands of the dope-pushers.

But "the rhetoric of black power," though it is overpowered, is not the majority rhetoric of the Negro. It is only a very small part of the subject of black-white relations. The trouble with relying on books for anything these days is that publishing, as it is practiced in New York City, is predominantly a left-wing business. But there are books in the black-white relations field that do not point the way to a militant black separatism, and there is journalism that marks Mickey Harrington's doleful picture of the "other America" as an overwrought document.

If the University of Connecticut wishes to balance its "suggested reading" list (it still has time for it before school opens), why not add George Schuyler's "Black and Conservative" as a fifth starter? Or, if that seems too "right wing," for the Liberal Land of Academia, there is an "in-between" book, "Ghetto Crisis: Riots or Reconciliation?" written by two white sociologists, Henry Etzkowitz and Gerald Schaf-lander, who started what they describe as "an integrated, self-supporting day-care center for the children of unwed and Welfare mothers" in the Bedford-Stuyvesant ghetto of New York City.

The Etzkowitz-Schaflander team considers "black power" an "overrated concept used only by a minority of the young, alienated 'jitterbugs' and a handful of power-seeking militants. Seldom do adults use it. What they want is 'green power'."

To discover the extent to which "green power" is growing among American blacks, one has to go to journalistic record, not to what can be found in hard-cover books or even in paper-backs.

You wouldn't know, to read Eldridge Cleaver or Malcolm X or even Michael Harrington, that the percentage of black

Potato Poachers Bug Farmers

STANTON (AP) — Potato poachers are beginning to irritate farmers in Montcalm County, the sheriff's office reports, but at least one convicted poacher has found it an expensive proposition.

Arthur Wyman, 39, of Grand Rapids was convicted Thursday of stealing potatoes from a farm near Lakeview Aug. 9. Wyman was fined a total of $58 on the larceny charge and ordered to make restitution for the stolen potatoes.

The value of the potatoes was not stated. Sheriff's deputies said there have been several poachers in county potato patches this year, including some thieves who have been pilfering potatoes by the truckload.

Letters To The Press

STOCK CAR RACES — There has been a great deal of comment about the stock car races run this past weekend in Escanaba. Also, in a recent letter to the press several comments were made by D. L. Seymour of Escanaba.

We would like several matters known. No one can argue the fact that the races were delayed, but the reasons why should be made known. First of all, anyone with any knowledge of a race track knows that it must be heavily watered so it is properly prepared for the high powered cars that run today. Even though the track was wetted throughout the week, it was still dry at race time. Besides, a grandstand show was run in the afternoon on Saturday, right up to race time, and we could not get on the track to water it.

Many elements are taken into consideration when watering, including amount of rain-fall, sunshine, cloudiness, wind, dew, etc. To get a track ready with the extreme dryness we have had the past 10 days, it is impossible.

Also, usually about 70 cars show up for the races during the year. This was increased to over 100 cars during the fair. In order to get the track ready the drivers must cooperate and pack the track. The usual number of drivers packed the track. Some packed very little, others not at all. For example, a car carrier with 4 cars arrived at the track at 11 a. m., but did not take the cars off till 1 p. m., the time when time trials were scheduled to start. One-hundred seven cars going around the track packing would have had the track ready in the scheduled time.

The drivers had a choice from the Fair Board of racing Friday night or Sunday afternoon. They chose Sunday afternoon. With the lack of rain, it was difficult to prepare the track for an evening race, let alone an extremely hot afternoon.

We wouldn't brag about the track or criticize anyone else, because cinders were put under the track, and in order to families below the $3,000-a-year-income level has been cut in half since 1958. The Negro market has become a big market, as advertisers in the magazine "Ebony" have discovered. One doesn't have to be Pollyannish about things to take it as a hopeful sign that the "black bourgeoisie" is growing faster than the white bourgeoisie.

I have seen figures that purport to prove that black family advances into the $15,000-and-up brackets are outpacing comparable white advances by a three-to-one margin percentage-wise. This figure, of course, is somewhat deceptive, for the whites in America outnumber the blacks by a ten-to-one margin.

It would be tough for the University of Connecticut to assemble the available "black-white" journalistic output in time for its September "Orientation Week." But books are another matter. It may be relevant to note that a Black Academy of Arts and Letters was established some six months ago. I don't find Eldridge Cleaver on its list of founding members.

have a good track, the entire track would have to be torn up and start over.

The so called retaining wall had unprotected openings up to 14 feet right in the corner. A driver in that period hit one of those walls head on in the opening and was never able to race again.

We extend an invitation to you to go with us to the Heyden Speedway and see their program. Look at the safety factor, and the amount of cars they have and then make a comparison. They have the same problem of watering, in fact if they get a little rain, they have to cancel their program. They have few cars, with the drivers having to run extra races to put on a show. Also, our driver was instructed as to the amount of water to put on the track Sunday, but the promoter from the Soo jumped on the truck and told him to put on more.

In regards to the statement of the promoters who ran the track before, they too had delays, with a lot less cars. They ran only about 5 races. Today we run 6 heats, two semi-finals and two features, plus our consolation races, over 162 laps of racing. We also have two classes of cars, something they didn't have before.

Since we have taken over the track we have more cars and more people than ever before. We have fixed the track, bought equipment, installed safety fences and other safety devices, installed steel plating, new lights, a P. A. system, plus other improvements.

Through the cooperation of many people our races have been very good this summer. There were problems this weekend, we hope we have explained some of the reasons why. We like good races, and want to put on a good show too. However, many factors enter into putting on a smooth race and we need the cooperation of many people to put on a good show. In many cases this cooperation was not there this weekend.

Opening lead—jack of clubs. Let's say you're declarer at four spades and West leads the jack of clubs. There seems to be nothing to the play, since you're likely to make either ten or eleven tricks depending on whether the trumps are divided 3-1 or 2-2.

When you duck the club, West leads another one which East wins with the king. East then continues with the ace, which you ruff, but when you next play the ace of spades, East shows out.

This is a disconcerting development, of course, since the 4-0 trump break appears to have put an end to your chances. But, having been to the wars before, you start to think in terms of whether it is still possible to make the hand despite West's seemingly indestructible two trump tricks.

What you must do in situations like this is to mentally distribute the defenders' cards so that it becomes possible to cut off one of your trump losers. If you can find such a distribution, you assume it exists and play the hand accordingly. In the present case you must assume that West's original distribution was 4-3-3-3, in which case you can resuscitate the contract.

You stop playing trumps and cash the Q-K-A of hearts, discarding a diamond. Having passed this hurdle, you play the A-K-Q of diamonds, being careful to end up in your hand. This is now the position.

When you next lead a low spade toward the ten, West suddenly discovers that whatever he does he cannot make more than one trump trick. You are bound to score both the ten and king of spades, as one of West's trump tricks goes up in smoke.

Copters In Use Over Labor Day

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State Police plan to put three helicopters in the air—weather permitting—and extra men on the roads to help patrol traffic during the coming Labor Day weekend.

Col. Fredrick Davids, State Police director, says officers from the motor vehicle inspection lanes, which will not be operated during the three-day weekend, will be on patrol. Facilitating speed law enforcement for the troopers will be use of VASCAR, the visual average speed computer and recorder. That is an electronic computer which the state police have been using in their patrol activity since last spring.

Davids said police patrols would "do what they can" to hold the line on traffic accidents, but added that motorists must also help by policing their own driving if traffic deaths and injuries are to be reduced.

Labor Day weekend, he said, is the state's worst holiday period for traffic deaths, with recorded tolls of 51 last year and 48 in 1967.

Of the five major holiday periods, Davids said, the weekend has the highest average of 38 deaths in the 1964-68 years.

Police Shoot

EAST LANSING (AP)—The 32nd annual Michigan police shoot—sometimes termed the Governor's Trophy match—is set for Sept. 4 at the R. V. Gray pistol range at Jackson. Some 500 individuals on about 150 teams are expected to compete in the one-day meet, largest of its kind in the country. The contestants represent some 90 police departments. Defending champions are the State Police in Class AA, Lansing in A, Jackson in B, Taylor in C and Marysville in D.

Hide Belongings Of Sloppy Roommates

Dear Ann Landers: Whenever you get a problem you can't answer you say, "See your clergyman." It's an easy way to get off the hook but it doesn't solve anybody's problem.

I quit going to church eleven years ago so I don't know any clergymen. I got sick of the phonies who went to church to be seen by other phonies. All the clergymen in this town are so busy getting their pictures in the paper that they have no time to talk to people about their troubles. When they aren't posing for pictures they are serving on committees or buttering up the rich.

The dedicated spiritual leader is a thing of the past. So please stop telling your readers to see their clergymen. Their clergyman is not the least bit interested.—Telling It Like It Is.

Dear Telling: Strange that a person who hasn't been inside a church for eleven years, and doesn't know any clergymen considers himself an authority on the subject. Hundreds of people have written to tell me they followed my advice and found their clergyman a well-spring of strength and practical guidance.

Your inference that clergymen are self-serving and materialistic is absurd. Those who choose the religious life are not lured to this calling by money because there's precious little in it.

Dear Ann Landers: I have the all-time cure for sloppy roommates. It has worked with two. The last one was a super-slob of the highest order. After first hinting, then suggesting, next demanding, and finally screaming, I decided tougher tactics were called for, so this is what I did. Every time she left her clothes on the floor, or her books on my bed, or her sweater on the doorknob, I hid them. One morning after searching frantically for her sneakers she begged me to help her find them. After about 20 minutes of deep concentration I located the speakers under her mattress. I then recalled that I had put them there when I stumbled over them in the middle of the floor.

I haven't had to pick up after her since.—Maestro

Dear Maestro: Most dorm rooms are too small to do very much hiding, but I salute you for your ingenuity.

Dear Ann Landers: I married for the second time six weeks ago. The engagement ring from my first marriage is a beautiful diamond solitaire. It goes very well with my new diamond wedding band.

Last night I wore them as a set and my husband blew his top. I offered to have the solitaire remounted so it would not look like the same ring. He said he did not want me to wear it under any circumstances. He suggested I sell the ring and give the money to charity. I think he is being unduly sensitive and immature. What do you say?—Two Carat Woe

Dear Woe: I say why keep a piece of jewelry if it means trouble? Sell the ring and donate the ring money to the American Cancer Society.

Alcohol is no shortcut to social success. If you think you have to drink to be accepted by your friends, get the facts. Read "Booze And You — For Teen-Agers Only," by Ann Landers. Send 35c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed and stamped envelope.

Sense And Sen. Mack

After the Senate passed Senate Bill 428, conservationists in Michigan became alarmed over a provision in the bill that would have forced the state to put vast acreages of public recreation lands up for sale.

Introduced by State Sen. Joseph Mack, Ironwood Democrat, the bill would require the Department of Natural Resources to compile a list of all tax-reverted lands in its possession, to offer these lands for public auction and to pay taxes of 45 cents an acre (as compared with 20 cents now being paid) on all lands not sold.

Almost no one argues against the provision to raise the payments to townships by the state from 20 cents to 45 cents. But everyone who is concerned with outdoor recreation in Michigan must protest any forced offering to sell recreation lands that belong to the people of Michigan. Included in these tax reverted lands are about 3,000,000 acres — much of it in the Upper Peninsula — on which the public may now hunt, fish, camp, hike, etc. without charge. Some of the lands lie within state parks. Others are in state forests and recreation areas. If these lands were placed on sale, private individuals or groups could acquire them and bar the public.

Sen. Mack appeared before the Michigan Natural Resources Commission at its monthly meeting in Marquette and asked that group to support his bill, although it is the Legislature — and not the commission — that holds the authority to raise the tax payments on state-owned lands. During his remarks to the commission, Sen. Mack said, "I did not advocate sale of land" by introducing the bill.

This is absolute nonsense. The bill clearly provides for the public sale of land. Because the senator apparently is attempting to deny the language in his own bill, Section 2 of Senate Bill 428 is quoted herewith:

"Within 90 days of the date of the compilation of the list, the department shall announce a time and place when all lands on the list shall be offered for sale at public sale. Each description of land shall be sold to the highest bidder if the bid is more than the cash selling price determined by the department."

Commission Chairman August Scholle told Mack: "As I read your act, it certainly could have been construed to mean that we could be forced to sell land against our will."

Another commissioner, E. M. Laitala of Hancock, who has led the fight to prevent the sale of public land, remarked "I speak and read three languages fluently, and I read the bill as it passed the Senate many times. It plainly mandated us to put all tax-reverted state lands on the auction block."

Besides, a grandstand show was run in the afternoon on Saturday, right up to race time, and we could not get on the track to water it.

Many elements are taken into consideration when watering, including amount of rainfall, sunshine, cloudiness, wind, dew, etc. To get a track ready with the extreme dryness we have had the past 10 days, it is impossible.

Also, usually about 70 cars show up for the races during the year. This was increased to over 100 cars during the fair. In order to get the track ready the drivers must cooperate and pack the track. The usual number of drivers packed the track. Somepacked very little, others not at all. For example, a car carrier with 4 cars arrived at the track at 11 a. m., but did not take the cars off till 1 p. m., the time when time trials were scheduled to start. One-hundred seven cars going around the track packing would have had the track ready in the scheduled time.

The drivers had a choice from the Fair Board of racing Friday night or Sunday afternoon. They chose Sunday afternoon. With the lack of rain, it was difficult to prepare the track for an evening race, let alone an extremely hot afternoon.

We wouldn't brag about the track or criticize anyone else, because cinders were put under the track, and in order to Opening lead—jack of clubs.

Let's say you're declarer at four spades and West leads the jack of clubs. There seems to be nothing to the play, since you're likely to make either ten or eleven tricks depending on whether the trumps are divided 3-1 or 2-2.

When you duck the club, West leads another one which East wins with the king. East then continues with the ace, which you ruff, but when you next play the ace of spades, East shows out.

This is a disconcerting development, of course, since the 4-0 trump break appears to have put an end to your chances. But, having been to the wars before, you start to think in terms of whether it is still possible to make the hand despite West's seemingly indestructible two trump tricks.

What you must do in situations like this is to mentally distribute the defenders' cards so that it becomes possible to cut off one of your trump losers. If you can find such a distribution, you assume it exists and play the hand accordingly.

In the present case you must assume that West's original distribution was 4-3-3-3, in which case you can resuscitate the contract.

You stop playing trumps and cash the Q-K-A of hearts, discarding a diamond. Having passed this hurdle, you play the A-K-Q of diamonds, being careful to end up in your hand. This is now the position.

When you next lead a low spade toward the ten, West suddenly discovers that whatever he does he cannot make more than one trump trick. You are bound to score both the ten and king of spades, as one of West's trump tricks goes up in smoke.

Copters In Use Over Labor Day

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State Police plan to put three helicopters in the air—weather permitting—and extra men on the roads to help patrol traffic during the coming Labor Day weekend.

Col. Fredrick Davids, State Police director, says officers from the motor vehicle inspection lanes, which will not be operated during the three-day weekend, will be on patrol.

Facilitating speed law enforcement for the troopers will be use of VASCAR, the visual average speed computer and recorder. That is an electronic computer which the state police have been using in their patrol activity since last spring.

Davids said police patrols would "do what they can" to hold the line on traffic accidents, but added that motorists must also help by policing their own driving if traffic deaths and injuries are to be reduced.

Labor Day weekend, he said, is the state's worst holiday period for traffic deaths, with recorded tolls of 51 last year and 48 in 1967.

Of the five major holiday periods, Davids said, the weekend has the highest average of 38 deaths in the 1964-68 years.

Police Shoot

EAST LANSING (AP)—The 32nd annual Michigan police shoot—sometimes termed the Governor's Trophy match—is set for Sept. 4 at the R. V. Gray pistol range at Jackson. Some 500 individuals on about 150 teams are expected to compete in the one-day meet, largest of its kind in the country. The contestants represent some 90 police departments. Defending champions are the State Police in Class AA, Lansing in A, Jackson in B, Taylor in C and Marysville in D.

Ann Landers

Hide Belongings Of Sloppy Roommates

Dear Ann Landers: Whenever you get a problem you can't answer you say, "See your clergyman." It's an easy way to get off the hook but it doesn't solve anybody's problem.

I quit going to church eleven years ago so I don't know any clergymen. I got sick of the phonies who went to church to be seen by other phonies. All the clergymen in this town are so busy getting their pictures in the paper that they have no time to talk to people about their troubles. When they aren't posing for pictures they are serving on committees or buttering up the rich.

The dedicated spiritual leader is a thing of the past. So please stop telling your readers to see their clergymen. Their clergyman is not the least bit interested.—Telling It Like It Is

Dear Telling: Strange that a person who hasn't been inside a church for eleven years, and doesn't know any clergymen considers himself an authority on the subject. Hundreds of people have written to tell me they followed my advice and found their clergyman a well-spring of strength and practical guidance.

Your inference that clergymen are self-serving and materialistic is absurd. Those who choose the religious life are not lured to this calling by money because there's precious little in it.

Dear Ann Landers: I have the all-time cure for sloppy roommates. It has worked with two. The last one was a super-slob of the highest order. After first hinting, then suggesting, next demanding, and finally screaming, I decided tougher tactics were called for, so this is what I did. Every time she left her clothes on the floor, or her books on my bed, or her sweater on the doorknob, I hid them. One morning after searching frantically for her sneakers she begged me to help her find them. After about 20 minutes of deep concentration I located the speakers under her mattress. I then recalled that I had put them there when I stumbled over them in the middle of the floor.

I haven't had to pick up after her since—Maestro

Dear Maestro: Most dorm rooms are too small to do very much hiding, but I salute you for your ingenuity.

Dear Ann Landers: I married for the second time six weeks ago. The engagement ring from my first marriage is a beautiful diamond solitaire. It goes very well with my new diamond wedding band.

Last night I wore them as a set and my husband blew his top. I offered to have the solitaire remounted so it would not look like the same ring. He said he did not want me to wear it under any circumstances. He suggested I sell the ring and give the money to charity. I think he is being unduly sensitive and immature. What do you say?—Two Carat Woe

Dear Woe: I say why keep a piece of jewelry if it means trouble? Sell the ring and donate the ring money to the American Cancer Society.

Alcohol is no shortcut to social success. If you think you have to drink to be accepted by your friends, get the facts. Read "Booze And You — For Teen-Agers Only" by Ann Landers. Send 35c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed and stamped envelope.

Columbia's Red Guerrillas Begin New Campaign

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — Communist guerrillas, long dormant in Colombia, have launched recently a series of attacks that have provoked fears of a disruption of hard-won political peace here.

Ten soldiers and 15 civilians have been killed by the guerrillas in several ambushes and raids in the last 45 days in a jungle area some 350 miles northeast of Bogota.

A group of guerrillas, estimated at some 80 men, occupied momentarily two small towns and destroyed several ranches. They also ambushed an army patrol, wiping it out and capturing all its weapons.

The group belongs to an organization called the Army of National Liberation, which follows the orientation of Fidel Castro. It started operations in March 1965 but was practically put out of business by the Colombian army in the last months of 1966. Most of its leaders were either killed or captured, and the government has announced that this organization was destroyed for all purposes.

It seems now that some men escaped encirclement and went to another jungle area.

They are operating in the department of Antioquia under the leadership of Juan de Dios Aguilera, 28.

A Catholic priest, working in one of the rural parishes in the 4,000 square miles where Aguilera operates, has warned that the group is receiving growing support from the peasants.

The government has dispatched several hundred soldiers to the area but they have failed to make contact with Aguilera.

Outwardly the government tries not to give too much importance to the latest series of attacks, but some officials are worried about the effect. The campaign to choose a successor to President Carlos Lleras Restrepo starts soon.

Hoffa's Trial Is Adjourned

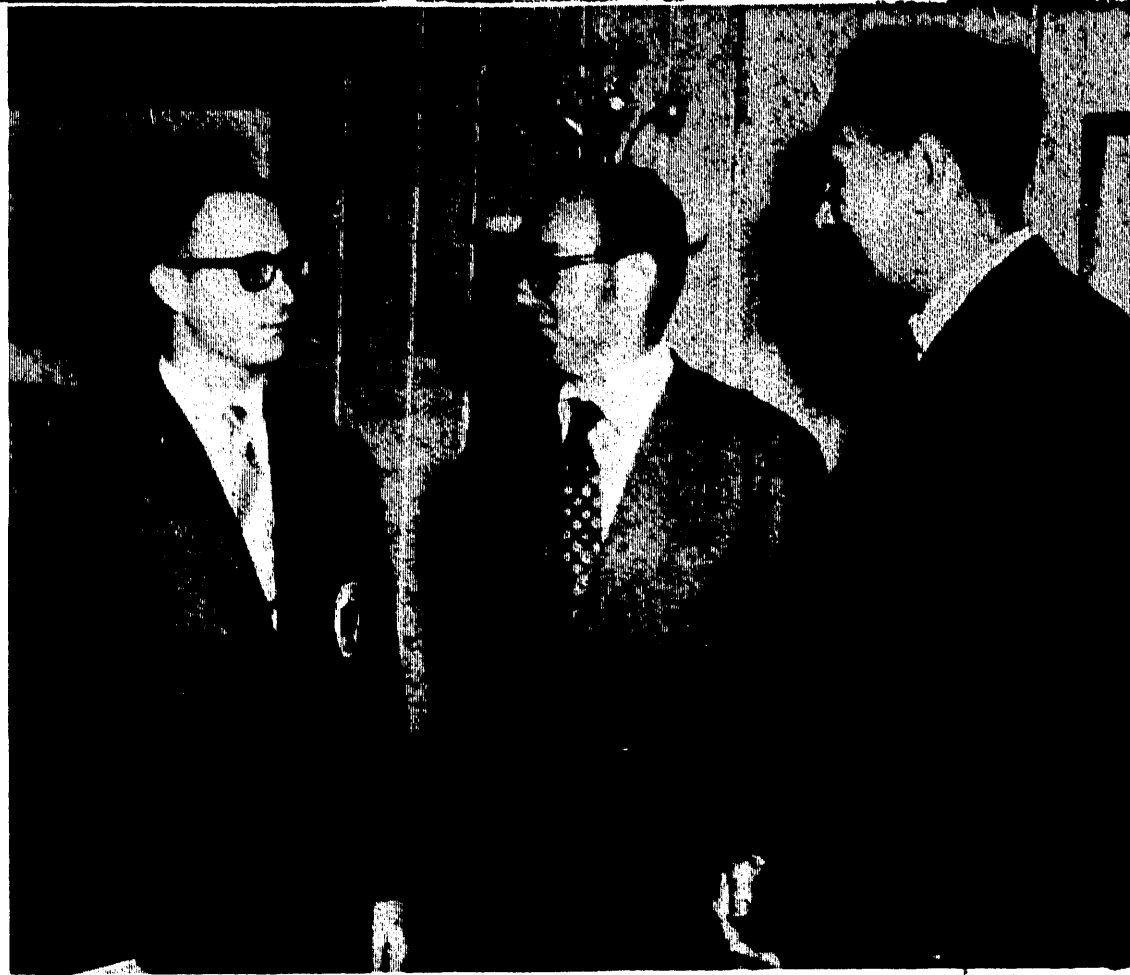

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — The judge who heard James R. Hoffa's jury tampering trial in 1964 has adjourned the Teamsters president's hearing for the weekend to begin studying 1,317 documents of evidence which Hoffa hopes will gain him a new trial.

The documents are transcripts made by the FBI of conversations involving Hoffa and three co-defendants the government admitted listened to as an invited third party. U.S. District Judge Frank Wilson also ordered them turned over to Hoffa's lawyers.

The Teamsters president, who has served 30 months of the eight-year sentence he received in the case, contends he should be granted a new trial on grounds the government used evidence gained by illegal means to convict him and three others.

The Justice Department, meanwhile, contends that efforts of Hoffa's attorneys to examine the transcripts is "just another attempt to rummage through the government's files." They say no evidence used against Hoffa in the 1964 trial was gained by eavesdropping.

The hearing, which resumes here Monday, was ordered by the U.S. Supreme Court to determine if Hoffa's rights under the Fourth Amendment were violated by the "bugging."

ESCANABA'S TRAFFIC FUTURE was discussed at a luncheon meeting at the House of Ludington Friday noon with Prof. Donald E. Cleveland of the University of Michigan's traffic engineering department. Fresh Hope For Trumpeter Swan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The humpback chub may swim to oblivion and the whooping crane may give up its struggle for survival but there's fresh hope for the trumpeter swan.

In a new report, the Interior Department is reminding Americans that 90 species of fish and wildlife are in danger of disappearing but it reports conservation efforts and the discovery of new breeding populations in Alaska have assured the trumpeter swan will be around for a while.

The report—titled "The Right to Exist"—lists the black-footed ferret, the ivory-billed woodpecker, Attawater's prairie chicken, the California condor and the Florida Key deer among the species in danger of passing from the scene. The great auk, the passenger pigeon, the Carolina parakeet, the plains grizzly bear and the giant sea mink have ceased to exist.

The endangered species—such as the humpback chub, a distinctive little minnow in the Green and Colorado Rivers north of the Grand Canyon—must have help or extinction probably will soon follow, says the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife.

Traffic Survey In Preliminary Discussion Here

Preliminary discussions and a one-day observation of Escanaba's traffic control and public parking needs occupied a University of Michigan instructor who also has experience as a traffic engineering consultant.

Prof. Donald E. Cleveland, in charge of the traffic engineering course at University of Michigan, spent all day Friday here at the invitation of the City Council.

He made no charge for his services and the city is obligated only for his expenses.

Cleveland will make a report to Police Chief Richard Fredrick and City Manager George Harvey, and the report and other information will be assembled into recommendations that will be presented to the City Council for consideration.

Police Chief Fredrick, who presided at an informal discussion with community representatives, said Friday was selected for the visit of Prof. Cleveland because of the volume of traffic generated on that day and evening in the downtown business district.

Cleveland answered questions and commented in general on the methods employed in studying, surveying and solving traffic difficulties in other communities.

The process may be as extensive as the community wishes, although satisfactory studies have been made by local persons under the direction of qualified consultants, Cleveland pointed out.

Mayor Pro-tem Robert Bink, representing the City Council in the discussion, expressed concern about the cost of a traffic study and said the Council would be opposed to considering an expenditure of $10,000 or $15,000 for such a purpose.

The discussion brought comments and opinions from persons representing Safety Advisory, State Highway, Chamber of Commerce, and other groups. Cleveland answered a number of questions and after the luncheon toured the city, observing traffic.

He was accompanied by Police Chief Fredrick. Cleveland's observations continued through the evening shopping hours and he returned to Ann Arbor today.

U.P. Highways To Be Improved

Rep. Charles Varnum announced today that the State Highway Commission will take bids Dec. 16 in Escanaba for resurfacing of 46.2 miles of highway in five Upper Peninsula counties.

Estimated cost of the work is $1.4 million, part of the Commission's $6 million resurfacing program for fiscal 1969-70. Most of the year's resurfacing work in the Lower Peninsula is already under contract.

Commission member Claude J. Tobin of Escanaba said the Upper Peninsula work includes resurfacing of portions of M-26, M-28 and US-2 in Delta, Gogebic, Houghton, Ontonagon and Schoolcraft counties, and pavement patching on about 12 miles of M-28 in Houghton County.

Tobin said the resurfacing, in conjunction with heavy maintenance to be undertaken on most of the routes, will correct major deficiencies in the highways.

It is expected that several construction projects will be added later to the Escanaba letting.

Resurfacing of 12.4 miles of

U.S. 2 between M-149 in Schoolcraft County and the Big Fish Dam River in Delta

County. In addition, the grade will be raised one to three feet on 2.5 miles of the highway and safety improvements will be made at Cooks Road in Schoolcraft County. The reconstruction of 10.2 miles of U.S. 2 from east of Rapid River to Nahma Junction, just east of the resurfacing project, is scheduled to be undertaken in 1971. Estimated cost of the resurfacing is $510,000.

Resurfacing of 12.1 miles of

U.S. 2 in Delta County, from the west county line easterly including six-tenths of a mile in Escanaba. This is in conjunction with removal of the high crown in the center of the highway. Estimated cost of the resurfacing is $322,000.

Resurfacing of 15.8 miles of

M-26 in Ontonagon and Houghton counties, between U.S. 45 and Winona. This is in conjunction with substantial base correction between U.S. 45 and Rockland Road. Estimated cost of the resurfacing is $401,000.

Resurfacing of 5.5 miles of

M-28 in Gogebic and Ontonagon counties, between Tula and the Gogebic-Ontonagon County line, and from M-64 westerly for about a half-mile. The surfacing projects will be linked by 3.2 miles of seal coating.

Estimated cost of the resurfacing is $125,000.

Pavement patching on 11 miles of M-28, from west of Kenton to Sidnaw in Ontonagon County. Estimated cost is $43,000.

Knoll Captured By U.S. Troops

LANDING ZONE CENTER

Vietnam (AP) — U.S. troops today captured a rocky knoll south of Da Nang from enemy forces who for four days had blocked all efforts to reach a downed American helicopter.

Four companies of the U.S.

American Division, totaling about 250 men, occupied the hill at dusk against little resistance.

From their vantage point, they were in position to advance to the site of the crash about 1,000 yards away, presumably Sunday.

The four companies began moving up the north slope of the knoll, known as Hill 102, earlier in the day. They had sought to drive up the west slope of the hill, 31 miles southwest of Da

Nang, but pulled back after running into strong enemy fire.

Marine units were in blocking positions hoping to cut off enemy troops which might try to pull off the hill and escape.

Assault

The assault began with waves of Air Force bombers pouncing on an estimated 100 steel-reinforced bunkers. Artillery also hammered the enemy positions.

Military spokesmen said the object of the assault is to seize the hill from which North Vietnamese troops have been blocking American efforts since

Wednesday to push ahead to the crash site, about 1,000 yards

south of the hill.

Columbia's Red Guerrillas Begin New Campaign

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — Communist guerrillas, long dormant in Colombia, have launched recently a series of attacks that have provoked fears of a disruption of hard-won political peace here.

Ten soldiers and 15 civilians have been killed by the guerrillas in several ambushes and raids in the last 45 days in a jungle area some 350 miles northeast of Bogota.

A group of guerrillas, estimated at some 80 men, occupied momentarily two small towns and destroyed several ranches. They also ambushed an army patrol, wiping it out and capturing all its weapons.

The group belongs to an organization called the Army of National Liberation, which follows the orientation of Fidel Castro. It started operations in March 1965 but was practically put out of business by the Colombian army in the last months of 1966. Most of its leaders were either killed or captured, and the government as recently as two months ago announced that this organization was destroyed for all purposes.

It seems now that some men escaped encirclement and went to another jungle area.

They are operating in the department of Antioquia under the leadership of Juan de Dios Aguilera, 28.

A Catholic priest, working in one of the rural parishes in the 4,000 square miles where Aguilera operates, has warned that the group is receiving growing support from the peasants.

The government has dispatched several hundred soldiers to the area but they have failed to make contact with Aguilera.

Outwardly the government tries not to give too much importance to the latest series of attacks, but some officials are worried about the effect. The campaign to choose a successor to President Carlos Lleras Restrepo starts soon.

School Boards Set Hearing

Supt. Walter McClintock of the Delta-Schoolcraft Intermediate Board of Education announced today that a joint meeting of the Marquette-Alger Intermediate School District and the Delta-Schoolcraft Intermediate School District will be held at 7:30 p. m. on Thursday, Sept. 11 in the multi-purpose room of the new Bark River Elementary School on U. S. 41 approximately 14 miles west of Escanaba.

McClintock said that the purpose of the meeting is to act upon a request by the Escanaba Area Board to transfer from the Flat Rock School District to the Escanaba District, that portion of property known as the "Lake Bluff Estates" which now lies in Escanaba Township.

The Escanaba School Board received a petition to have the property transferred during their last board meeting. Since that time the Flat Rock School District through its attorney Nino Green has voiced strong opposition to the proposed transfer.

"The meeting will be open to the public, and an opportunity will be given at the meeting for all persons to be heard," McClintock said.

Bodies Spotted Floating In Debris

32 boats were either destroyed or severely damaged.

In city areas, hundreds of gasoline-driven electric generators roar day and night, supplying emergency power to vital installations and service stations.

A steady stream of trucks comes from the outside, bringing food and supplies.

Estimate 315

"We've already pulled some bodies out of the water and there's no telling how many more have been swept out to sea," said State Sen. Nap Cassibry, area Civil Defense coordinator.

Cassibry, who made the estimate of 315 killed on Mississippi's coast, also said it was believed that "more bodies are buried in the beach sand—buried deep where they'll probably never be found."

A group of congressmen from the House public works subcommittee planned a three-day inspection of the area, starting today.

Hoffa's Trial Is Adjourned

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) —The judge who heard James R. Hoffa's jury tampering trial in 1964 has adjourned the Teamster president's hearing for the weekend to begin studying 1,317 documents of evidence which Hoffa hopes will gain him a new trial.

The documents are transcripts made by the FBI of conversations involving Hoffa and three co-defendants the government admitted listened to as an uninvited third party. U.S. District Judge Frank Wilson also ordered them turned over to Hoffa's lawyers.

The Teamsters president, who has served 30 months of the eight-year sentence he received in the case, contends he should be granted a new trial on grounds the government used evidence gained by illegal means to convict him and three others.

The Justice Department, meanwhile, contends that efforts of Hoffa's attorneys to examine the transcripts is "just another attempt to rummage through the government's files." They say no evidence used against Hoffa in the 1964 trial was gained by eavesdropping.

The hearing, which resumes here Monday, was ordered by the U.S. Supreme Court to determine if Hoffa's rights under the Fourth Amendment were violated by the "bugging."

Fresh Hope For Trumpeter Swan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The humpback chub may swim to oblivion and the whooping crane may give up its struggle for survival but there's fresh hope for the trumpeter swan.

In a new report, the Interior Department is reminding Americans that 90 species of fish and wildlife are in danger of disappearing but it reports conservation efforts and the discovery of new breeding populations in Alaska have assured the trumpeter swan will be around for a while.

The report—titled "The Right to Exist"—lists the black-footed ferret, the ivory-billed woodpecker, the California condor and the Florida Key deer among the species in danger of passing from the scene. The great auk, the passenger pigeon, the Carolina parakeet, the plains grizzly bears and the giant sea mink have ceased to exist.

The endangered species—such as the humpback chub, a distinctive little minnow in the Green and Colorado Rivers north of the Grand Canyon—must have help or extinction probably will soon follow, says the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife.

Traffic Survey In Preliminary Discussion Here

Preliminary discussions and a one-day observation of Escanaba's traffic control and public parking needs occupied a University of Michigan instructor who also has experience as a traffic engineering consultant.

Prof. Donald E. Cleveland, in charge of the traffic engineering course at University of Michigan, spent all day Friday here at the invitation of the City Council.

He made no charge for his services and the city is obligated only for his expenses.

Cleveland will make a report to Police Chief Richard Fredrick and City Manager George Harvey, and the report and other information will be assembled into recommendations that will be presented to the City Council for consideration.

Police Chief Fredrick, who presided at an informal discussion with community representatives, said Friday was selected for the visit of Prof. Cleveland because of the volume of traffic generated on that day and evening in the downtown business district.

Cleveland answered questions and commented in general on the methods employed in studying, surveying and solving traffic difficulties in other communities.

The process may be as extensive as the community wishes, although satisfactory studies have been made by local persons under the direction of qualified consultants, Cleveland pointed out.

Mayor Pro-tem Robert Bink, representing the City Council in the discussion, expressed concern about the cost of a traffic study and said the Council would be opposed to considering an expenditure of $10,000 or $15,000 for such a purpose.

The discussion brought comments and opinions from persons representing Safety Advisory, State Highway, Chamber of Commerce, and other groups. Cleveland answered a number of questions and after the luncheon toured the city, observing traffic.

He was accompanied by Police Chief Fredrick. Cleveland's observations continued through the evening shopping hours and he returned to Ann Arbor today.

Decision Ends 'Name Game'

DETROIT (AP) — The "name game" on the Detroit municipal elections ballot apparently ended once and for all Friday with Wayne County Circuit Judge Victor Baum's ruling that a State Supreme Court decision barring one candidate the use of a ballot designation applied to five other candidates.

The battle over the name game followed a tortuous legal path. Eight legal rulings, starting with the City Elections Commission and ending with the State Supreme Court, included three overrulings and reprinting of the city ballot twice.

The name game was based on an elections provision that candidates with like names could apply for ballot designations to distinguish them. The issue that caused the confusion was whether candidates allegedly procured solely to earn other candidates designations deserved designations.

Baum finally settled the issue when he ruled Friday that five candidates could not use the designations, along with another candidate barred by the supreme court.

Thus barred were Don D. Cramer, Traffic Court referee; George W. Edwards Jr.; Georg Edwards; John A. Smith, city elections director; D. Smith; and John C. Kettler.

Featured speaker for the ceremony was Acting U. S. Deputy Commissioner of Education, Peter P. Muirhead.

Guilty Of Threat

NEW YORK (AP) — A 20-year-old porter has been found guilty of making telephone threats to kill President Nixon.

Carlos Valle was found guilty Friday by a federal court jury of making two calls Feb. 24 to the local offices of the FBI and the Secret Service.

Valle faces a maximum penalty of a $10,000 fine and 10 years in prison.

FRED BEIKKOLA, 70, retired agricultural extension agent for Baraga County, died Friday night in the wreckage of his car, which ran into a roadside ditch, then struck a utility pole, but authorities said they were uncertain whether he died of injuries or a heart attack. Beikkola was en route to his L'Anse home alone from the Houghton - Baraga County Fair at nearby Pelkie at the time.

U.P. Highways To Be Improved

Rep. Charles Varnum announced today that the State Highway Commission will take bids Dec. 16 in Escanaba for resurfacing of 46.2 miles of highway in five Upper Peninsula counties.

Estimated cost of the work is $14 million, part of the Commission's $6 million resurfacing program for fiscal 1969-70. Most of the year's resurfacing work in the Lower Peninsula is already under contract.

Commission member Claude J. Tobin of Escanaba said the Upper Peninsula work includes resurfacing of portions of M-26, M-28 and US-2 in Delta, Gogebic, Houghton, Ontonagon and Schoolcraft counties, and pavement patching on about 12 miles of M-28 in Houghton County.

Tobin said the resurfacing, in conjunction with heavy maintenance to be undertaken on most of the routes, will correct major deficiencies in the highways.

It is expected that several construction projects will be added later to the Escanaba letting.

Resurfacing of 12.4 miles of U.S. 2 between M-149 in Schoolcraft County and the Big Fish Dam River in Delta County. In addition, the grade will be raised one to three feet on 2.5 miles of the highway and safety improvements will be made at Cooks Road in Schoolcraft County. The reconstruction of 10.2 miles of U.S. 2 from east of Rapid River to Nahma Junction, just east of the resurfacing project, is scheduled to be undertaken in 1971. Estimated cost of the resurfacing is $510,000.

Resurfacing of 12.1 miles of U.S. 2 in Delta County, from the west county line easterly including six-tenths of a mile in Escanaba. This is in conjunction with removal of the high crown in the center of the highway. Estimated cost of the resurfacing is $322,000.

Resurfacing of 15.8 miles of M-26 in Ontonagon and Houghton counties, between U.S. 45 and Winona. This is in conjunction with substantial base correction between U.S. 45 and Rockland Road. Estimated cost of the resurfacing is $401,000.

Resurfacing of 5.5 miles of M-28 in Gogebic and Ontonagon counties, between Tula and the Gogebic-Ontonagon County line, and from M-64 westerly for about a half-mile. The resurfacing projects will be linked by 3.2 miles of seal coating. Estimated cost of the resurfacing is $125,000.

Pavement patching on 11 miles of M-28, from west of Kenton to Sidnaw in Ontonagon County. Estimated cost is $43,000.

District Court

James Sovey, 21, Rte. 1, Escanaba, pleaded guilty in District Court Friday to a charge of driving under the influence of intoxicating liquors. Sovey paid a total of $100 in fine and costs plus a $3 judgment fee.

Sovey was arrested by State Police early Friday morning after they observed him driving erratically at a high rate of speed on U. S. 2 in Escanaba.

British Warn Fear Campaigners

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — The British army handed out today a tough warning intended to stop the intimidation campaign that is still frightening people into leaving their homes.

Anonymous letters saying "get out or be burned out" are the major weapon in the campaign. The letters have been received by Roman Catholics in dominantly Protestant streets and by Protestants in dominantly Catholic streets.

A joint army-police statement said:

"The authorities wish it to be known that this is a criminal offense and in cases where the offenders are brought to justice they will be prosecuted with the utmost rigor."

Knoll Captured By U.S. Troops

LANDING ZONE CENTER, Vietnam (AP) — U.S. troops today captured a rocky knoll south of Da Nang from enemy forces who for four days had blocked all efforts to reach a downed American helicopter.

Four companies of the U.S. Americal Division, totaling about 250 men, occupied the hill at dusk against little resistance. From their vantage point, they were in position to advance to the site of the crash about 1,000 yards away, presumably Sunday.

The four companies began moving up the north slope of the knoll, known as Hill 102, earlier in the day. They had sought to drive up the west slope of the hill, 31 miles southwest of Da Nang, but pulled back after running into strong enemy fire.

Marine units were in blocking positions hoping to cut off enemy troops which might try to pull off the hill and escape.

Assault

The assault began with waves of Air Force bombers pounding an estimated 100 steel-reinforced bunkers. Artillery also hammered the enemy positions.

Military spokesmen said the object of the assault is to seize the hill from which North Vietnamese troops have been blocking American efforts since Wednesday to push ahead to the crash site, about 1,000 yards south of the hill.

North Vietnamese troops have put big antiaircraft guns and other weapons on the hill and inflicted serious American losses and damage.

Among those reported missing aboard the downed helicopter the U.S. forces are trying to reach are a battalion commander, six other Army men and Associated Press photographer Oliver Noonan.

U.S. headquarters reported that troops of the 196th Brigade clashed twice Friday with North Vietnamese soldiers near the crash site. At least 22 enemy and one American soldier were reported killed and 14 Americans wounded.

Later, enemy gunners pumped 15 mortar rounds into two night camps of the 196th Brigade infantrymen. Headquarters said American casualties were light.

Military spokesmen claim more than 500 North Vietnamese soldiers have been killed since Sunday in the fighting west of Tam Ky.

There is no firm count on American casualties, but field reports put them at 5 to 40 killed, more than 160 wounded and 10 missing, including the seven Army men aboard the helicopter downed by North Vietnamese antiaircraft fire Tuesday.

Attend the Church of Your Choice

Would you like to live in a house like this? It might be fun for awhile, but chances are that the novelty would soon wear off. When it comes to daily living, Americans are comfort-lovers. We want the latest car, deep freeze, stove or vacuum cleaner.

Because we pride ourselves on being modern, sometimes we are apt to think of going to church every Sunday as old-fashioned and out of gear with the present-day world. But the Church, in case you haven't noticed, is keeping up with the times far better than a lot of us. And isn't it true that certain basic truths, traditions and ideals cannot be gauged as modern or old-fashioned? The Church is ready to face tomorrow. Why not go next Sunday and see for yourself?

Mrs. Kurt K. Kickbusch (Lee's Photo)

Cynthia Ottensman, Kurt Kickbusch Wed

Christ the King Lutheran Church, Escanaba, was the setting for the 7:30 p.m. wedding of Cynthia Jean Ottensman and Kurt K. Kickbusch on Saturday, August 16.

Rev. Erland Carlson officiated at the double ring ceremony with William VanEffen Jr. as organist. A vocal duet was performed by Mrs. Thomas Hurshman of Georgetown, Ky., and Miss Patricia DeMonbrun of Kansas City, Missouri, both friends of the bride. Mr. Conrad Beck also sang at the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Ottensman of 1601 13th Ave. N., and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kickbusch of Route 1, Cornell.

Serving as maid of honor for her sister's wedding was Kathy Ottensman; and bridesmaids were Sharon Kickbusch of Escanaba, sister of the groom, and Peggy Ottensman of West Allis, Wis., and Carole Ottensman of Green Bay, both sisters of the bride.

Best man was Nathan Nordin of Bark River, and further attending the bridegroom were Charles Peterson of Escanaba, Gary Reese of Kalamazoo and DRESSY KNIT — By combining gold and silver duxet trim around the collar and cuffs, Apollon makes this wool double knit dress doubly interesting.

William Slagstad of Escanaba.

Venue — Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full-length organza over Bridal taffeta shirt gown with long full sheer sleeves and a full chapel train. The front of the gown was threaded with satin ribbon and Venice lace; and the gown, train and sleeves were trimmed with strips of Venice lace daisies. A cap of pearl centered Venice daisies with the daisies repeated on the satin streamers at the back, secured her three-tiered elbow length English silk illusion veil. She carried a white lace covered Bible with yellow sweetheart roses.

The four attendants wore identical gowns of sunshine maise sheer over taffeta. Each empire bodice was made with a lace jabo, high lace neckline, and billowing elbow length sheer sleeves. Their floor length modified bell skirts were unadorned. Double bows of yellow velvet held their short veils. Bouquets of yellow roses and white carnations were carried.

Mother's Attire — Mrs. Ottensman chose an aqua green sheath with matching lace coat and white accessories for her daughter's wedding. An apple green dress with lace trim bone accessories was worn by Mrs. Kickbusch. Both mothers were presented with gardenia corsages, and Mrs. Andrew Johnson, grandmother of the groom, was presented a corsage of pink carnations.

Reception — Immediately following the ceremony was a reception in the church parlors. After a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination the newlyweds will reside at 305 Northwest Apts., Mount Pleasant, Mich.

The bride is a junior at Central Michigan University and Mr. Kickbusch is a 1968 graduate of Northern Michigan University.

People

Mr. and Mrs. William Alvin of Edgewater Park, Mississippi survived the hurricane but their house was damaged by fallen trees. They spent the night in the Edgewater Hotel in the downtown district where damage was kept to a minimum. The Alvins own a home in Long Beach, Mississippi also and this was destroyed. Mrs. Alvin is the former Carol Wawirka of Escanaba.

EATING-OUT AMERICANS — Americans spend $30 billion for foods served away from home annually. The food service industry serves approximately 40 billion meals a year, requiring 35 billion pounds of food.

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise:

I have a very large, old-fashioned family kitchen and have been in a quandry as to how to decorate it to add a personal touch and warmth.

It occurred to me that it would be fun to have friends' favorite recipes (we have enjoyed in their homes) inscribed on tiles and embedded in the wall. In this way, the recipes are readily available for me to use and our friends have a role in our own household.

I use a standard 6" x 6" white tile and china paints to write the recipes. Then I take them to the local ceramic shop to give them a permanent finish.

When possible, I have my friends write the recipes themselves.

Inga Thomsen

Inga Doll:

What a dreamboat you were to think that one up!

You could even have your friends do this with a marking pen and spray over it with fizz can, and hang the tiles on the wall with those stick-on picture hangers. This way they could be removed when a better or current favorite recipe came along.

My imagination is running wild with your idea, Inga.

Wouldn't they make darling tops on outdoor patio tables with jokes on them? Or to cover that kitchen bar where the top is ruined?

Tile companies usually sell what they call "broken boxes" of tile real cheap. I checked.

You Angel Pie, Heloise

Letter Of Laughter

Dear Heloise:

For years I had accumulated recipes clipped from magazines and newspapers. So I finally went to the dime store and bought an accordion alphabetized folder.

It brought order out of chaos and I went back for another to hold my "Heloise Hints". Now I can find the hint I need without having to take the whole stack off the spindle I kept them on.

I am still on the lookout for a folder with just two letters: "N" and "V" for Nylon Net and Vinegar! Ho! Ho!

Mrs. Gilbert Duncan

Dear Heloise:

I make a list of all the frozen foods in my refrigerator. Then use a magnet to stick it on the door. As I use items I just scratch them off with my red marker.

This way I don't "lose" something that should have been used sooner.

Clara Bennett

Dear Heloise:

Have you ever had gobs of those wonderful money-saving coupons you took to the supermarket and forgot to use?

Well, here is my solution: I check my shopping list and put a little red mark next to every item that I have a coupon for. As I select each product, I get the right coupon out and immediately stick it to the item with tape.

Much easier on my pocketbook and the checker thinks I am pretty smart, too.

Mrs. Farmer Burns

Dear Heloise:

I read the hint about adding red food coloring to pink salmon so that it would appear to be the more expensive red salmon. Well, that's fine and dandy, but I would like to tell you what I do to mine.

When I'm making salmon sandwiches or salad and using a less expensive brand of salmon, I always add a spoonful of tomato catsup to the salmon as well as the mayonnaise. This not only gives it more "eye appeal", but adds a better taste.

"A Penny-Pincher"

Mrs. Robert W. Carter Jr.

Royce Ann Black And Robert W. Carter Wed

Miss Royce Ann Black, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Black, Jr., of New Britain, Conn., was married Saturday, Aug. 23 to Robert Welsh Carter, Jr., son of Sgt. Major (USMC) and Mrs. Carter of St. Petersburg, Fla.

The ceremony was performed at the First Church of Christ, Congregational, in New Britain by the Rev. Benjamin R. Andrews, Jr., assisted by the Rev. C. Arthur Bradley, uncle of the bridegroom, and minister of the Church of the Redeemer in New Haven, Conn.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of the Renaissance period, styled of ivory net over organza, appliqued with alencon lace. Her veil was of scalloped Italian Point lace over French illusion.

Cynthia Ottensman, Kurt Kickbusch Wed

Christ the King Lutheran Church, Escanaba, was the setting for the 7:30 p.m. wedding of Cynthia Jean Ottensman and Kurt K. Kickbusch on Saturday, August 16.

Rev. Erland Carlson officiated at the double ring ceremony with William VanEffen Jr. as organist. A vocal duet was performed by Mrs. Thomas Hurshman of Georgetown, Ky., and Miss Patricia DeMonbrun of Kansas City, Missouri, both friends of the bride. Mr. Conrad Beck also sang at the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Ottensman of 1601 13th Ave. N., and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kickbusch of Route 1, Cornell.

Serving as maid of honor for her sister's wedding was Kathy Ottensman; and bridesmaids were Sharon Kickbusch of Escanaba, sister of the groom, and Peggy Ottensman of West Allis, Wis., and Carole Ottensman of Green Bay, both sisters of the bride.

Best man was Nathan Nordin of Bark River, and further attending the bridegroom were Charles Peterson of Escanaba, Gary Reese of Kalamazoo and

William Slagstad of Escanaba.

Venice Lace

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full-length organza over Bridal taffeta shirt gown with long full sheer sleeves and a full chapel train. The front of the gown was threaded with satin ribbon and Venice lace; and the gown, train and sleeves were trimmed with strips of Venice lace daisies. A cap of pearl centered Venice daisies with the daisies repeated on the satin streamers at the back, secured her three-tiered elbow length English silk illusion veil. She carried a white lace covered Bible with yellow sweetheart roses.

The four attendants wore identical gowns of sunshine maise sheer over taffeta. Each empire bodice was made with a lace jabo, high lace neckline, and billowing elbow length sheer sleeves. Their floor length modified bell skirts were unadorned. Double bows of yellow velvet held their short veils. Bouquets of yellow roses and white carnations were carried.

Mother's Attire

Mrs. Ottensman chose an aqua green sheath with matching lace coat and white accessories for her daughter's wedding. An apple green dress with lace trim bone accessories was worn by Mrs. Kickbusch. Both mothers were presented with gardenia corsages, and Mrs. Andrew Johnson, grandmother of the groom, was presented a corsage of pink carnations.

Reception

Immediately following the ceremony was a reception in the church parlors. After a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination the newlyweds will reside at 305 Northwest Apts., Mount Pleasant, Mich.

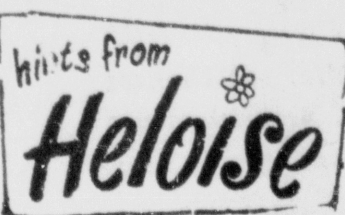

The bride is a junior at Central Michigan University and Mr. Kickbusch is a 1968 graduate of Northern Michigan University.

People

Mr. and Mrs. William Alvin of Edgewater Park, Mississippi survived the hurricane but their house was damaged by fallen trees. They spent the night in the Edgewater Hotel in the downtown district where damage was kept to a minimum. The Alvins own a home in Long Beach, Mississippi also and this was destroyed. Mrs. Alvin is the former Carol Wawirka of Escanaba.

EATING-OUT AMERICANS

Americans spend $30 billion for foods served away from home annually. The food service industry serves approximately 40 billion meals a year, requiring 35 billion pounds of food.

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise:

I have a very large, old-fashioned family kitchen and have been in a quandry as to how to decorate it to add a personal touch and warmth.

It occurred to me that it would be fun to have friends' favorite recipes (we have enjoyed in their homes) inscribed on tiles and embedded in the wall. In this way, the recipes are readily available for me to use and our friends have a role in our own household.

I use a standard 6" x 6" white tile and china paints to write the recipes. Then I take them to the local ceramic shop to give them a permanent finish.

When possible, I have my friends write the recipes themselves.

Inga Thomsen

Inga Doll:

What a dreamboat you were to think that one up!

You could even have your friends do this with a marking pen and spray over it with fizz can, and hang the tiles on the wall with those stick-on cloth picture hangers. This way they could be removed when a better or current favorite recipe came along.

My imagination is running wild with your idea, Inga.

Wouldn't they make darling tops on outdoor patio tables with jokes on them? Or to cover that kitchen bar where the top is ruined?

Tile companies usually sell what they call "broken boxes" of tile real cheap. I checked.

You Angel Pie,

Heloise

Letter Of Laughter

Dear Heloise:

For years I had accumulated recipes clipped from magazines and newspapers. So I finally went to the dime store and bought an accordion alphabetized folder.

It brought order out of chaos and I went back for another to hold my "Heloise Hint". Now I can find the hint I need without having to take the whole stack off the spindle I kept them on.

I am still on the lookout for a folder with just two letters: "N" and "V" for Nylon Net and Vinegar! Ho! Ho!

Mrs. Gilbert Duncan

Dear Heloise:

I make a list of all the frozen foods in my refrigerator. Then use a magnet to stick it on the door. As I use items I just scratch them off with my red marker.

This way I don't "lose" something that should have been used sooner.

Clara Bennett

Dear Heloise:

Have you ever had gobs of those wonderful money-saving coupons you took to the supermarket and forgot to use?

Well, here is my solution: I check my shopping list and put a little red mark next to every item that I have a coupon for. As I select each product, I get the right coupon out and immediately stick it to the item with tape.

Much easier on my pocketbook and the checker thinks I am pretty smart, too.

Mrs. Farmer Burns

Dear Heloise:

I read the hint about adding red food coloring to pink salmon so that it would appear to be the more expensive red salmon. Well, that's fine and dandy, but I would like to tell you what I do to mine.

When I'm making salmon sandwiches or salad and using a less expensive brand of salmon, I always add a spoonful of tomato catsup to the salmon as well as the mayonnaise. This not only gives it more "eye appeal", but adds a better taste.

Vicki LaCrosse Weds Robin A. Sheedlo

St. Patrick's Church was the setting of the wedding of Vicki Joan LaCrosse and Robin Allen Sheedlo on Saturday, July 26 at 1:30 p.m.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Shirley LaCrosse of 1415 1st Ave. N. and Mr. George LaCrosse of 1328 N. 19th St. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sheedlo of 1910 22nd Ave. S., are the parents of the groom.

Maid of honor was Pamela Moore of Escanaba and the bridesmaid was Sally Moran of Escanaba, the bride's niece. Cindy Lee Sidebeck of Escanaba was the flower girl.

Serving as best man was Tom Gannon, and further attending the bridegroom was Ralph Kivela. Steven Sheedlo, brother of the bridegroom, was ring bearer. Performing ushering duties were Mark Taylor and Jim Anderson.

Cage Gown

For her wedding the bride selected a floor length cage gown of organza over a taffeta sheath, fashioned with short sleeves and a scalloped neckline. Chantilly lace applique trimmed the six foot court train that was attached at the shoulders. The waterfall illusion veil was secured by an organza pillow with tiny rosebuds and seed pearls. She carried a single red rose.

The bridal attendants were attired in pale pink ottoman fitted gowns with short puffed sleeves and high necklines banded with white lace. The back waistline was accented with tiny bows. The illusion veils were held with double tiaras of pink daisies and each carried a single rose.

The flower girl wore a dress identical to that of the attendants and it was made by the bride's mother. She carried a tiny white basket of pink flowers and the ring bearer carried a white satin pillow.

Mother's Attire

Mrs. LaCrosse wore a turquoise and white knit sheath with a small standup collar and white accessories. A white two-piece suit with black accessories was worn by the bridegroom's mother. Both were presented corsages of pink and white roses.

Reception

Following the ceremony, the newlyweds received guests at a reception at the Eagles Clubrooms. They then left for a wedding trip to the Wisconsin Dells.

The bride is a 1969 graduate of Escanaba Area High School and Mr. Sheedlo is a 1968 graduate of the same school.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Faris, Mrs. Donald Riley and sons, Mrs. Royal McDermott Sr. and Mrs. Frances Komar, all of Fond du Lac, Wis.

Top Ranked Drivers Get Race Victories

NORWAY — It's beginning to sound repetitious but once again the top-ranked drivers, Bob Iverson and Ron Paquette, walked off with the major share of honors in racing action Friday night at the Norway Speedway before a crowd of 1,400 fans.

The hard charging Iverson of Hyde was a double winner in the modified program, capturing first place in the 20-lap feature and the second heat.

Ed Provo of Escanaba moved out to an early lead in the 20-lap feature, with Iverson moving into second on the third lap. A restart narrowed the gap between the two and when the green flag was dropped, Iverson jumped into the lead and coasted to his second win of the night and 28th of the year.

Wally Jors of Fond du Lac, Wis., starting at the rear of the pack, almost flipped with five laps to go but brought his car under control and edged Provo for second place on the last lap.

Iverson also took honors in the second heat after taking over first place from his brother Ken on the sixth lap. Bob held on to a comfortable lead at the finish line over his brother and Jors moved in for a third place finish.

In the first heat, Jim Valiquette of Escanaba took the lead on the third lap, with Provo moving up to challenge the next time around. Four laps later, Provo moved into first and led the rest of the way to pick up the checkered flag. Valiquette settled for second and Bob Ross of Gwinn placed third. The smooth driving Jors made his third appearance at Norway and for the third time walked off with time trial honors with a clocking of :19.72.

In his last appearance he set the track record with a time of :18.48.

Wins Twice
Paquette, the Kingsford native and number one driver at Norway and Escanaba, was also a double winner in the sportsman class, winning the 20-lap feature and the third heat.

With 18 cars in the 20-lap feature, he had his work cut out for him, but he was equal to the task. Ron Dean of Kingsford moved out to a big lead early in the race and looked like a sure winner, but car trouble forced him out.

Wenell Tourangeau of Escanaba then took the lead and gave Paquette a run for his money. The two battled bumper to bumper with Paquette taking first on the 13th lap and holding Tourangeau off until the finish. Gregg Cousineau of Kingsford was third.

The victory was Paquette's 22nd of the year.

Real Thriller
Paquette also won the third heat in a real thriller, edging Jose Haforkorn of Norway at the finish line. Several drivers took turns in first place and the winner was not decided until the cars crossed the finish line. Duke Gardiner of Escanaba was right behind the first two cars for third place.

Pat Temple of Norway moved ahead of Ken Gulliani of Norway on the 10th lap and edged him for honors in the second heat. Cousineau again took home third place in this race. Bob Fayas of Kingsford led for all but one lap in the first heat and scored the victory. Mike Bubloni of Vulcan was second.

Gardiner took time trial honors with a clocking of :23.04.

Veteran Crusaders Open Season Under New Coach

Perhaps this is the year that the football fortunes at Holy Name High School will be on the upswing, as the Crusaders are preparing for the coming season under a new head coach and with 20 lettermen back from last year's squad.

Doug Bovin, a former Holy Name quarterback, takes over the head coaching post at Holy Name after serving two years as an assistant coach under Tom O'Neill, who has since left Escanaba for a job as defensive backfield coach at Coral Park High School in Miami, Fla.

Heading the list of returning lettermen are the four captains, seniors Bob McGinn and Dick Gorenchian and juniors Tom Ness and Joe Joran. McGinn was the starting quarterback for the Crusaders last season while Ness played halfback and Joran and Gorenchian played in the line.

Also returning to give the Crusaders plenty of experience this season are Jim Juetten, Don Cousineau, Dennis Severinsen, Dan Young, Joe Harvey, Joe Sinclair, Mark Johnson, Bill Beauvais, Bob Belland, Steve Juetten, Tim Bal, Jim DeGrand, Dave Oslund, Chuck Guay, Gary Corbett and Glen Theoret.

Young, who plays fullback on offense and linebacker on defense, was named to the All-U. P. football team as a line-backer last season by the U. P. Sportswriters Association.

Other players who have looked good in workouts thus far are Bill Skradski, Dale Currier, Jim Dubord, Jerry Stenac, Tom Barron, Neil Odgers, Dave Bray, Tom Leonard, Joe Kroll, John Olinger, John Baribeau, Gary Kleiman, Ray Hughs, Bob Rusch, Don Poquette, Paul VanEnkevort, Steve Leonard, Dan O'Donnell and Bob Buckland.

"This Crusader outfit is big, strong, fast and real hungry," says Bovin. "Their attitude is terrific and if everything remains the same, Holy Name should have a real fine year."

Some of Holy Name's key losses from last season are Tom Creten, the winner of the Dennis McGinn Trophy, John Dailley, Pete Quinn, Dick Rusch, Pete Ross, Jerry Koch, Joe

Engadine Grid Squad Faces Rebuilding Year

ENGADINE — Forty candidates have been working out daily at Engadine High School in preparation for the coming football season.

Ten lettermen are back from last year's team which posted a 4-3-1 mark and was rated 13th in the U. P. at the end of the season.

Fillman and Bigger had real fine seasons last year as sophomores and could be even better this season. Fillman became Engadine's highest scoring sophomore by scoring five touchdowns for 30 points and he gained 194 yards in 51 carries. Bigger completed 30 of 62 passing attempts for 447 yards and five touchdowns.

Rod Carlson, the Engadine coach, feels that the offensive line must be rebuilt since four starters have graduated, but defense should be the strong point as seven regulars are back.

"We have been hitting hard in practice," said Carlson. "The success of our season will depend greatly on how fast our offensive line develops. We have good size, some speed and a lot of desire."

Assisting Carlson this season will be Gary "Red" Bath of

McLain Wins 20th On Horton's Homer

ANAHEIM (AP) — "Being out of pennant contention has brought back my enjoyment for the game," says Denny McLain, baseball's first 20-game winner this year.

He reached the magic number Friday night, tossing a seven-hitter at the California Angels while Willie Horton crashed a three-run homer to lead the Detroit Tigers to their fifth straight victory by a 3-1 count.

The teams are to meet again today with Mike Kilkenny, 3-3, taking the mound against Rudy May, 5-10.

"I lost a lot of love for baseball last season," McLain said, reflecting upon the tension and pressure inherent when a pitcher goes out and wins 31 games.

"There just seemed to be no rest and I put my family through hell. This year it's been fun again."

Now that he is a 20-game winner for the third time in four seasons, McLain has no immediate objectives at all.

"I wanted to win 20," he said. "Now I'll just try and win as many as I can."

His manager, Mayo Smith, takes a slightly different tack. "I think he can win 25," Smith mused. "He should have at least nine more starts and you have to remember Denny is a guy who can win even without good stuff. I think he proved that tonight. He wasn't real sharp but he can finesse the other team."

Rookie Mike Kilkenny, 3-3, took the mound today for the Tigers against California's Rudy May, 5-10. The Tigers entered today's contest with a five-game winning streak.

McLain repeated earlier statements that he might give up the game in two or three years to enter private business. He admits to relishing the business world as much as he does baseball.

He also said he would seek a hefty salary increase next season. When asked for an exact figure, McLain just winked and replied: "Plenty!"

McLain struggled over the first two innings when the Angels collected four of their seven hits. One was Jim Spencer's sixth homer of the year.

California pitcher Tom Murphy, 8-12, working on an overnight pass from the Presidio in San Francisco where he is fulfilling his military commitment, protected the lead until the sixth when he gave up three unearned runs on Horton's 17th homer of the year.

With one out and a runner at first, Angel second baseman Sandy Alomar bobbled Jim Northrup's potential double play grounder before Horton sent a Murphy pitch careening over the right-center field fence.

Dick Nelson will not trade his putter to anyone following Tuesday night's action when he scored rounds of 39, 36, with only 9 putts on each round. His only two 2-putt greens were offset by hole-outs, one on each round.

The champions in women's golf were crowned at the area's three clubs: Highland; Carolyn Neilson defeated Elaine Fairchild 4 and 3; Escanaba; Rosemary Lemire defeated Gloria Hanley 5 and 4; Gladstone; Dorothy Coulter over DeDe Peterson 4 and 2.

Gene Seguin's 2-hitter and a perfect day at the plate by Jim Greenwood who had a homer, double and two walks, paced the Escanaba Bears to a 7-1 win over Stephenson.

Paul and Art Christensen captured the father-son tournament at the Escanaba Country Club with a net 70.

Reds Retain Slim Lead After Dropping Twinbill

The Cincinnati Reds are still holding the brass ring on the National League West merry-go-round, but a couple of kids from the other block—Roberto Clemente and Al Oliver of East Division Pittsburgh—have made that hold about as shaky as it can be.

Clemente got only one hit, but drove in four runs as the Pirates beat Cincinnati 8-2 in the first game of a doubleheader Friday night, then Oliver gave the Pirates a 5-3 victory in the nightcap with a two-run, two-out homer in the ninth inning.

Cincinnati remained one percentage point ahead of Los Angeles, which lost 5-3 to the New York Mets; one game up on San Francisco, which swept Montreal 7-5 and 10-2; 1½ games ahead of Atlanta, which lost 4-2 to St. Louis, and just two games ahead of fifth-place Houston, which beat the Chicago Cubs 8-2.

The first-place Cubs' lead over the Mets was reduced to 5½ games in the East Division, which also is tightening up, with St. Louis and Pittsburgh making threatening gestures.

In the only other NL action Friday night, Philadelphia trounced San Diego 10-0.

Clemente's only hit in five at-bats in the first game was a two-run triple, but he also drove in two runs with a groundout and a forceout.

The National League batting leader, at .357, sat out the second game, but Oliver took over and lifted the Pirates to a sixth straight victory that left them nine games behind the Cubs.

Cincinnati took a 3-2 lead when Tony Perez greeted reliever Bruce Dal Canton with a two-run single with the bases loaded and nine out in the eighth Dal Canton then got out of the inning, and the Pirates came back to tie on Jose Pagan's pinch RBI single. Oliver, who hit the 12th homer in the opener, then won it in the ninth.

Ron Swoboda's two-run homer gave the Mets a 2-0 lead, singles and catcher Jeff Torborg's passed ball made it 4-0 in the third and New York held on to beat Los Angeles.

San Francisco got two homers, his 37th and 38th, and five RBI from Willie McCovey in the first game and took advantage of 11 walks in the second game to sweep Montreal. McCovey drew an intentional walk in each game and now has 35 for the season, breaking a major league record of 33 set by Ted Williams of Boston in 1957.

Atlanta went down to St. Louis when the Cardinals' Mike Shannon broke a 2-2 tie with two-run, two-out homer in the fifth. Atlanta moved in front 2-0 on Orlando Cepeda's two-run homer in the second over Bob Gibson, 16-8, who has won five straight. St. Louis tied it in the third.

Larry Dierker, 16-9, scattered four hits and Jesus Alou drove in three runs as Houston handed the Cubs their third straight loss. Alou, who drove in his runs with a single and an infield out, also singled and scored a run.

Larry Hise singled in a run and hit a two-run homer, Derron Johnson belted a three-run homer and Rick Wise pitched his second straight shutout in

Top Ranked Drivers Get Race Victories

NORWAY — It's beginning to sound repetitious but once again the top-ranked drivers, Bob Iverson and Ron Paquette, walked off with the major share of honors in racing action Friday night at the Norway Speedway before a crowd of 1,400 fans.

The hard charging Iverson of Hyde was a double winner in the modified program, capturing first place in the 20-lap feature and the second heat.

Ed Provo of Escanaba moved out to an early lead in the 20-lap feature, with Iverson moving into second on the third lap. A restart narrowed the gap between the two and when the green flag was dropped, Iverson jumped into the lead and coasted to his second win of the night and 28th of the year.

Wally Jors of Fond du Lac, Wis., starting at the rear of the pack, almost flipped with five laps to go but brought his car under control and edged Provo for second place on the last lap.

Beats Brother

Iverson also took honors in the second heat after taking over first place from his brother Ken on the sixth lap. Bob held on to a comfortable lead at the finish line over his brother and Jors moved in for a third place finish.

In the first heat, Jim Valiquette of Escanaba took the lead on the third lap, with Provo moving up to challenge the next time around. Four laps later, Provo moved into first and led the rest of the way to pick up the checkered flag. Valiquette settled for second and Bob Ross of Gwinn placed third.

The smooth driving Jors made his third appearance at Norway and for the third time walked off with a clocking of :19.72.

In his last appearance he set the track record with a time of :18.48.

Wins Twice

Paquette, the Kingsford native and number one driver at Norway and Escanaba, was also a double winner in the sportsman class, winning the 20-lap feature and the third heat.

With 18 cars in the 20-lap feature, he had his work cut out for him, but he was equal to the task. Ron Dean of Kingsford moved out to a big lead early in the race and looked like a sure winner, but car trouble forced him out.

Wenell Tourangeau of Escanaba then took the lead and gave Paquette a run for his money. The two battled bumper to bumper with Paquette taking first on the 13th lap and holding Tourangeau off until the finish. Gregg Cousineau of Kingsford was third.

The victory was Paquette's 22nd of the year.

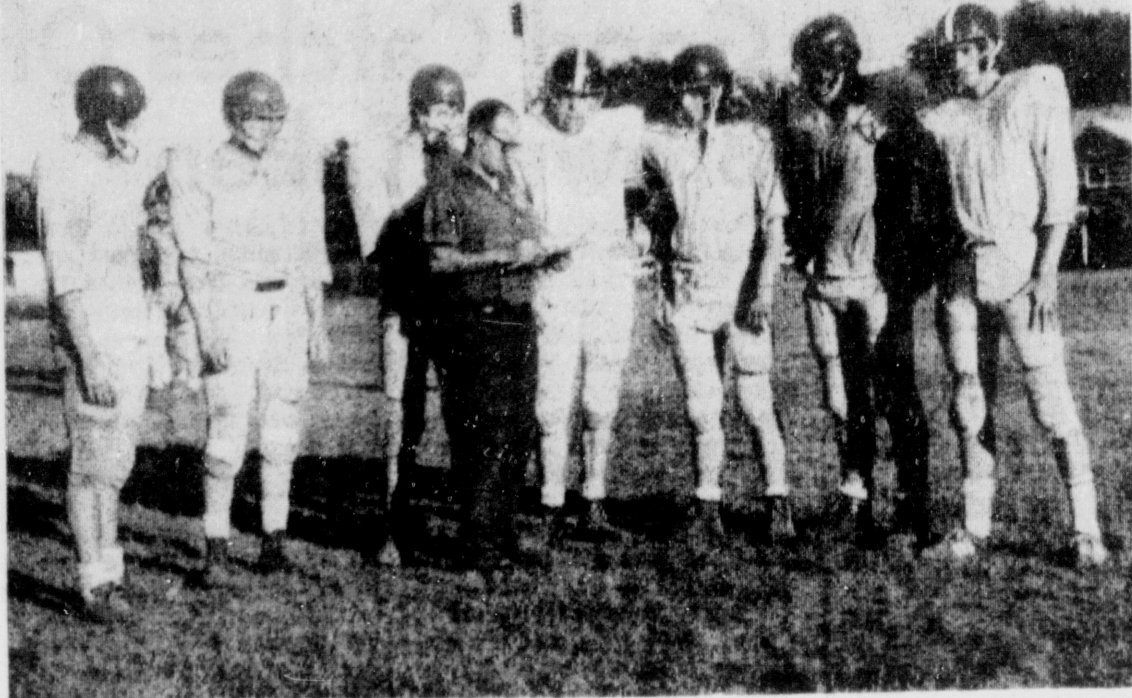

Real Thriller

Paquette also won the third heat in a real thriller, edging Jose Haferkorn of Norway at the finish line. Several drivers took turns in first place and the winner was not decided until the cars crossed the finish line. Duke Gardiner of Escanaba was right behind the first two cars for third place.

Pat Temple of Norway moved ahead of Ken Guilian of Norway on the 10th lap and edged him for honors in the second heat. Cousineau again took home third place in this race.

Bob Fayas of Kingsford led for all but one lap in the first heat and scored the victory. Mike Bubloni of Vulcan was second.

Gardiner took time trial honors with a clocking of :23.04.

Veteran Crusaders Open Season Under New Coach

Perhaps this is the year that the football fortunes at Holy Name High School will be on the upswing, as the Crusaders are preparing for the coming season under a new head coach and with 20 lettermen back from last year's squad.

Doug Bovin, a former Holy Name quarterback, takes over the head coaching post at Holy Name after serving two years as an assistant coach under Tom O'Neil, who has since left Escanaba for a job as defensive backfield coach at Coral Park High School in Miami, Fla.

Heading the list of returning lettermen are the four captains, seniors Bob McGinn and Dick Gorench and juniors Tom Ness and Joe Joran. McGinn was the starting quarterback for the Crusaders last season while Ness played half-back and Joran and Gorench played in the line.

Also returning to give the Crusaders plenty of experience this season are Jim Juetten, Don Cousineau, Dennis Severinsen, Dan Young, Joe Harvey, Joe Sinclair, Mark Johnson, Bill Beauvais, Bob Belland, Steve Juetten, Tim Bal, Jim DeGrand, Dave Oslund, Chuck Guay, Gary Corbett and Glen Theoret.

Young, who plays fullback on offense and linebacker on defense, was named to the All-U. P. football team as a line-backer last season by the U. P. Sportswriters Association.

Other players who have looked good in workouts thus far are Bill Skradski, Dale Currier, Jim Dubord, Jerry Stenac, Tom Barron, Neil Odgers, Dave Bray, Tom Leonard, Joe Kroll, John Olinger, John Baribeau, Gary Kleiman, Ray Hughs, Bob Rusch, Don Poquette, Paul VanEnkevort, Steve Leonard, Dan O'Donnell and Bob Buckland.

"This Crusader outfit is big, strong, fast and real hungry," says Bovin. "Their attitude is terrific and if everything remains the same, Holy Name should have a real fine year."

Some of Holy Name's key losses from last season are Tom Creten, the winner of the Dennis McGinn Trophy, John Dailley, Pete Quinn, Dick Rusch, Pete Ross, Jerry Koch, Joe

McLain Wins 20th On Horton's Homer

ANAHEIM (AP) — "Being out of pennant contention has brought back my enjoyment for the game," says Denny McLain, baseball's first 20-game winner this year.

He reached the magic number Friday night, tossing a seven-hitter at the California Angels while Willie Horton crashed a three-run homer to lead the Detroit Tigers to their fifth straight victory by a 3-1 count.

The teams are to meet again today with Mike Kilkenny, 3-3, taking the mound against Rudy May, 5-10.

"I lost a lot of love for baseball last season," McLain said, reflecting upon the tension and pressure inherent when a pitcher goes out and wins 31 games.

"There just seemed to be no rest and I put my family through hell. This year it's been fun again."

Now that he is a 20-game winner for the third time in four seasons, McLain has no immediate objectives in mind.

"I wanted to win 20," he said. "Now I'll just try and win as many as I can."

His manager, Mayo Smith, takes a slightly different tack.

"I think he can win 25," Smith mused. "He should have at least nine more starts and you have to remember Denny is a guy who can win even without good stuff. I think he proved that tonight. He wasn't real sharp but he can finesse the other team."

Rookie Mike Kilkenny, 3-3, took the mound today for the Tigers against California's Rudy May, 5-10. The Tigers entered today's contest with a five-game winning streak.

McLain repeated earlier statements that he might give up the game in two or three years to enter private business. He admits to relishing the business world as much as he does baseball.

He also said he would seek a hefty salary increase next season. When asked for an exact figure, McLain just winked and replied: "Plenty!"

McLain struggled over the first two innings when the Angels collected four of their seven hits. One was Jim Spencer's sixth homer of the year.

California pitcher Tom Murphree pitched a 2-0 shutout in the first two innings, but a runner at first, Angel second baseman Sandy Alomar bobbled Jim Northrup's potential double play grounder before Horton sent a Murphy pitch careening over the right-center field fence.

Mixed Couples Play Best Ball

Lois LaCrosse and Jack Magnuson teamed up to win first place in the Friday night Mixed Couples golf at the Escanaba Country Club with a net score of 31.

Second place ended up in a tie between Joan Seekinger and Dick Knoll and Maddie Meyers and Tom Neuman, each team coming in with a net 32 score.

Lee Hendrickson paced the women golfers with a 54 while Marilyn Knoll and Joan Seekinger came in with 56's. Dick Knoll, Jack Magnuson and Leo LaCrosse all had 41's to pace the men.

Engadine Grid Squad Faces Rebuilding Year

ENGADINE — Forty candidates have been working out daily at Engadine High School in preparation for the coming football season.

Ten lettermen are back from last year's team which posted a 4-3-1 mark and was rated 13th in the U. P. at the end of the season.

Returning lettermen include Martin Matchinski, senior guard; Ken Kleeman, senior tackle and linebacker; Ken Germain, senior end and halfback; Skip Bigger, junior quarterback and end; Gus Fillman, junior fullback and end; Ron Weger, senior halfback; Dick Lesatz, senior tackle; Mike Kerridge, senior linebacker; John Brown, senior safety and Steve Rahl, senior halfback.

Fillman and Bigger had real fine seasons last year as sophomores and could be even better this season. Fillman became Engadine's highest scoring sophomore by scoring five touchdowns for 30 points and he gained 194 yards in 51 carries. Bigger completed 30 of 62 passing attempts for 447 yards and five touchdowns.

Rod Carlson, the Engadine coach, feels that the offensive line must be rebuilt since four starters have graduated, but defense should be the strong point as seven regulars are back.

"We have been hitting hard in practice," said Carlson. "The success of our season will depend greatly on how fast our offensive line develops. We have good size, some speed and a lot of desire."

Assisting Carlson this season will be Gary "Red" Bath of Unitas Passes Colts Over Bills

By The Associated Press

Johnny Unitas put the arm on Buffalo.

Unitas, Baltimore's fine quarterback who sat out most of last season with a sore elbow, unfurled two touchdown passes—one for 70 yards—as the Colts beat the Bills 20-7 in exhibition pro football Friday night.

The victory was the fourth pre-season success over American Football League opponents for the National Football League Colts, who seem to be trying to prove something since their Super Bowl loss to the New York Jets.

Houston of the AFL stopped the NFL Chicago Bears 19-17 in Friday night's only other action. "With the exception of that 70-yard pass play (by Unitas) I thought our defense was presentable," said Coach John Rauch of Buffalo.

O. J. Simpson, who got considerably more work this time than in his first pro outing last week, played half of Friday night's game. The glamorous rookie back gained 25 yards on five carries and caught two passes for seven yards. He also ran back a kickoff 23 yards.

Athletics Drop Back In League

By The Associated Press

A pinch-hit home run by Curt Motton in the 10th inning allowed the Baltimore Orioles to slip by the Oakland Athletics 4-3 and moved the A's 2 1/2 games behind the American League Western Division leaders, the Minnesota Twins.

Minnesota, meanwhile had little trouble dispatching the New York Yankees 6-0.

In other AL action, the Chicago White Sox tripped Boston 4-1, Kansas City nipped Washington 3-2 and Cleveland outlasted Seattle 9-8.

Tony Oliver drove in five runs with two towering homers—his 16th and 17th—to lead the Twins' attack and Dave Boswell, 13-9, picked up his first victory since his celebrated Aug. 6 scrap with teammate Bob Allison and Manager Billy Martin outside a Detroit restaurant.

No one took a swing at Boswell but he got hit in the head anyway. Yankee reliever Bill Burbach conked him on the batting helmet in the eighth inning after Boswell had scattered seven hits and Ron Perranoski fin-

How did it feel to get a little more action?

"I've had two contacts now," said O.J., "and my confidence is increasing."

Would he have done anything differently in the two pro games he's played thus far?

"You shouldn't second guess yourself," Simpson said.

Unitas' touchdown passes of four and 70 yards connected with tight end Tim Mitchell. Lou Michaels added field goals of 45 and 38 yards to the Baltimore cause.

At the Astrodome, quarterback Pete Beathard hit Mac Hask with an 11-yard touchdown pass with 1:26 on the clock to give Houston a nerve-jabbing victory over the Bears.

The scoring strike wiped out a 17-12 Chicago lead, which the Bears had gained two minutes earlier on Gale Sayers' 92-yard kickoff return for a touchdown.

Only 20 seconds earlier, the Oilers had taken the lead, 12-10, on rookie kicker Roy Gerela's 30-yard field goal.

The exhibition schedule picks up steam tonight with eight games on tap.

In NFL action, Washington visits Atlanta; Green Bay plays at Dallas; Minnesota plays St. Louis at Memphis, Tenn., and Pittsburgh takes on New Orleans at Baton Rouge, La. Inter-league games find San Francisco, NFL, at Denver, AFL; Cleveland, NFL, at San Diego, AFL; and Kansas City, AFL, at Los Angeles, NFL. Miami is at Cincinnati in an AFL tilt.

No games are scheduled for Sunday, but Detroit of the NFL plays Boston of the AFL at Montreal and New York is at Oakland in an AFL game Monday night.

Shaw Continues To Lead Tourney

SUTTON, Mass. (AP) — Tom Shaw said he was tired. He said he didn't feel well. And he said he liked the situation just fine.

Billy Casper simply said, "Good bye."

Casper, twice a U.S. Open champion and last year's leading money winner, packed up his clubs and headed home to California after failing to make the cut for the final two rounds of the $150,000 Avco Golf Classic.

It took a score of 150 or better — matching the high cut of the year — to make it into the final two rounds and Buffalo Bill missed by one stroke. He rallied from an opening 81 to 70 for 151. It was the first time he had missed in 148 tournaments, since the Phoenix Open in 1964. Canadian George Knudson was a distance second at 141. He had a second round par 72 on the hilly, 7,212 yard Pleasant Valley Country Club course.

"Just what is your condition?" Shaw was asked when he started talking about his ailments.

"One thirty-six," he quipped. "I like it."

"I don't know what's wrong with me," the 26-year-old blond said. "I just haven't felt well for a couple of days. Maybe it's the sun. Maybe I'm a little nervous. Whatever it is, I hope it keeps up."

The sentiments are easily understandable. In two rounds, Shaw has been the only one able to really master the challenging, heavily wooded layout.

Pre-tourney favorite Gary Player and Masters champion George Archer just made it into the final two rounds with 150s. Archer had a second round 73. Player had a 74. U.S. Open champ Orville Moody had a 73 for 143.

But the unhappiest of them all was tour regular Steve Opperman, who put four balls in the water, then three-putted on the 17th for a whopping 13-high score of the year on a single hole.

There were only six scores under par. Mac McLendon held third after a 70 for 142, with Bruce Crampton, Bobby Mitchell and Claude Harnn Jr. tied at 143.

At par 144 were Mike Hill, Bob Lunn, Jack Mountgony, Bobby Stanton and Chuck Courtney.

Shaw, winner of the Doral Open this spring but in a slump since then, had trouble only on the 13th hole. He put his drive under a tree, missed the green, chipped poorly and two-putted from 30 feet for his only bogey.

He had five birdies, including two par fives which he reached in two. He also chipped to within five feet on another and ran in putts of 15 and 35 feet for the others.

The temperature has been ranging between 70 and 90 during the day and falling to 50 at night the past week which has driven the fish well below the lake surfaces. Winds have been strong from the south. The wind changed to the north this past weekend and brought some rain and cool weather with it off Lake Superior, thus reminding us that fall is soon upon us and the kids will be returning to school.

Asters are the flower of the week. They are found profusely along most of our highways and by-ways. John Pie weed in the low areas, and Fire weed in the barrens also add to the late summer colorama.

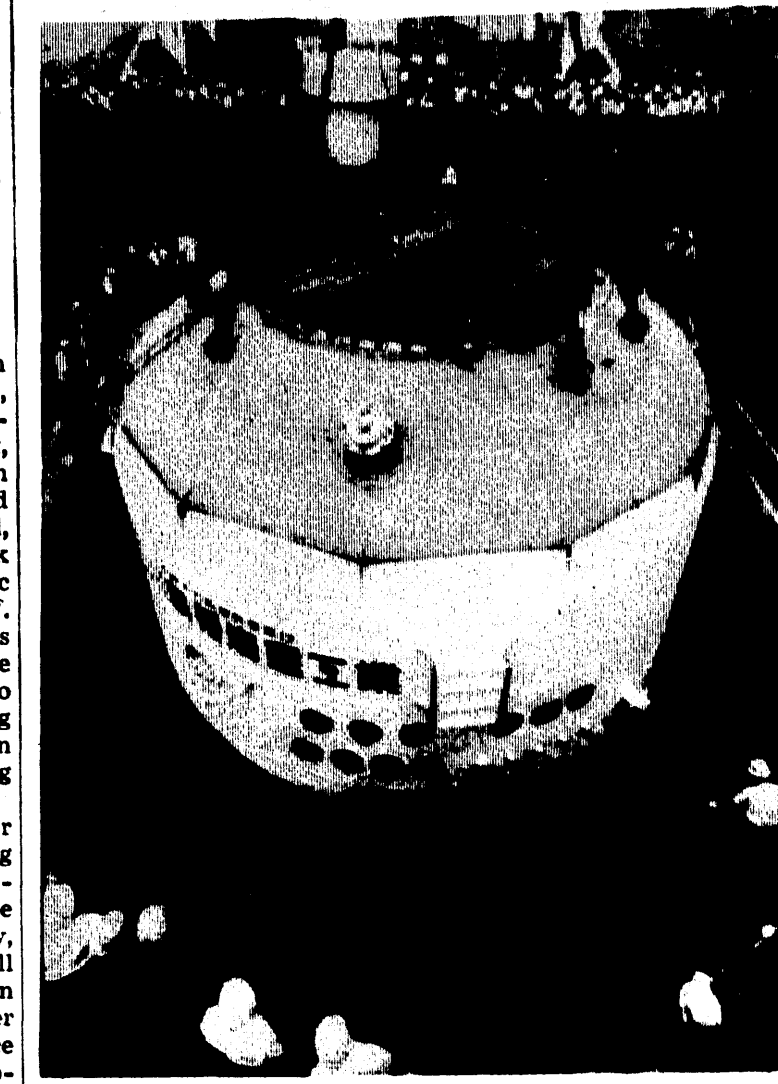

Fishing in general has been slow on inland lakes. It seems that fishermen either do not care to venture forth in the hot sun or figure the percentages are stacked against them during July and August. Pressure is down. Some good catches of fish are made by trolling near bottom with night crawler rigs and spoons, fishing for perch in the deeper weed beds, and casting for bass at night. Brook trout fishing is holding up quite well on many streams, especially in early morning and late evening hours.

Lake Trout — Trollers are having a field day in Lake Superior off the port of Grand Marais. Some lakers are also taken by bobbing in Pendill's Bay.

Coho — Fair catches taken incidental to Lake Trout while trolling off Grand Marais. Several "Jack" coho have been taken at mouth of Thompson Creek — Lake Michigan. These fish range from 10-13 inches. Some brookies and rainbow also taken at this location. The fall run of coho are not expected until September and October in this area. Early morning fishing is best for "Jack" coho.

Brown Trout — Some very good catches are made by fly fishermen between the upper and lower falls of the Tahquamenon, especially in late afternoon and evening. Another possibility would be the Rock River near Engadine.

Brook Trout — Good catches

Send Cards Early To Reach The Moon

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Some day the moon may be colonized—if some way can be found to provide it with an atmosphere.

This shouldn't take too long. All that is needed is a simple system for exporting to our lunar satellite a third of the hot air that emanates from mankind each day.

Once the moon is made habitable, who do you think should go there? Naturally, you have to consider that if they went to the moon you might never get to see them again in your lifetime.

With that fact in mind, here are a few offhand nominations: People who send you Christmas cards in August.

All pet owners who stick their squirming cats, dogs, parakeets and goldfish in your face and demand, "Did you ever see anything cuter?"

All people who think any country can solve its problems by dropping hydrogen bombs on some other country.

Any secretary whose fingernails are longer than her false eyelashes.

People who read your newspaper over your shoulder on the bus because they are too cheap to buy a copy of their own.

People on the bus who, when you have forgotten to buy a newspaper, turn and frown at you for trying to read their copy over their shoulder.

Anybody who has more pride in his ancestors than faith and hopes for the performance of his own progeny.

Butchers with overweight thumbs. (But can you recall ever meeting a butcher with an underweight thumb?)

Demure ladies who, when you start to kiss them, turn their cheek at the last moment—leaving you with a mouthful of face powder.

Ladies who, on rainy days, go heedlessly down busy sidewalks collecting the eyeballs of passers-by on the prongs of their umbrellas.

Gossips who insist they can't tell you a secret—then tell it to everyone else.

All money-hungry authors who write about sex as if it were a four-letter word.

Young 4-H'er Top Showman

EAST LANSING (AP)—A 12-year-old Perry boy, making his first appearance in the annual 4-H Youth State Show at Michigan State University, won top honors in the junior showman class and his animal was judged best of its breed.

Ron Haarer took home the Angus honors as some 5,000 young people from across the state attended the week-long show at MSU.

Thomas Dewey showed the champion Hereford heifer for the second consecutive year and Nancy Duible of Ann Arbor, won the senior showman class.

An Ingham County girl, 17-year-old Jill Smalley of Williamston, exhibited the champion Suffolk ewe as well as winning champion sheep showmanship honors in the woman age 14 and over-class.

The Eaton County 4-H livestock judging teams won both the junior and senior divisions of that contest and Sue Crissman, 17, of Caledonia, was the highest individual not on the first or second place team. She will attend the national 4-H livestock judging contest at Chicago.

Schools Announce Teacher Assignments

With the opening day of school only 12 days off, school personnel are busy with preparations for the young charges who will again troop to the centers of learning in the county.

Teacher assignments for elementary and rural seventh and eighth grades have been announced by the Manistique Area Schools.

Lakeside School: Marion Haas, kindergarten; Catherine Boudreau, 1st grade; Ione Maies, 2nd grade; Martha Cool, 3rd grade; Margaret Mueller, 4th grade; Gladys Mercier, principal, 5th grade; Carla McKilligan, 6th grade. The Lakeside teachers have been holding preliminary meetings to work out a partially ungraded system of teaching.

Lincoln School: Kathryn Moberg, kindergarten; Cora Guidebeck, 1st grade; Sigrid Kanerva, 2nd grade; Phyllis Toyra, 3rd grade; Evelyn Magoon, 4th grade; Margaret Malloch, 5th grade; Vernon Annelin, principal, 6th grade; Barbara Bonifas, combined 4th, 5th and 6th grades.

Germfask School: Sue Duncan, kindergarten; Judith Rynanen, 1st and 2nd grade.

Fairview School: Dorothy Giovannini, 4th grade; Faye Anderson, 5th grade; Monica Kelly, combined 4th and 5th grade; Pat Stapleton, 6th grade; Pat Hoefler, 7th grade; Gerald Wilson, 8th grade. Harold Miller is Fairview principal and will teach a special education class as will Mrs. Ruth Englund.

Doyle School: Sue Duncan, kindergarten; Linda Curran, 1st grade; Georgia Hettel, 2nd grade; Lucille Adamek, 3rd grade. A vacancy still exists at the Doyle School for the combined 1st, 2nd and 3rd grade room.

John Hanlon, 3rd and 4th grades; Paul Stotzer, 5th and 6th grades; Rudy Lawrence, principal, 7th and 8th grades.

Two minor accidents were investigated by Michigan State Police Thursday. At 11:50 a.m. Ernest J. Miller of Bensonville, Ill., reported a Wisconsin Michigan Power Co. truck caused a stone to boomerang and strike his windshield. At 1:23 Thursday afternoon an auto driven by Kenneth R. Kauffman of Kalamazoo struck the rear of a car driven by Doris Douglas of Livonia on U.S. 2 near Garden Corners. The Douglas vehicle had slowed down to allow a car in front to make a right turn. No tickets were issued in either incident.

State Troopers ticketed Perry L. Burrell, Gulliver, for speeding on Thursday.

Nicholas M. Wehner, 19, 101 Lake St., was ticketed by Public Safety officers for failure to have vehicle under control after his car struck an auto driven by Mary Louise Burns, Rte. 1. The mishap occurred on Deer St. Friday afternoon at 2:10 p.m. Public Safety officers took Wehner to the Manistique Clinic for treatment of a minor injury.

U. S. Rep. William D. Ford, D-Taylor, State Rep. Martin Butth, R-Comstock Park, and Mrs. Elda Wells of Paris were honored Friday as outstanding alumni of the organization.

Thailand Wants Reduction Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — A State Department spokesman said Friday Thailand has formally asked for talks with the United States on the reduction of U.S. forces in that country.

"We for our part are willing to enter into the discussion," the spokesman said.

The negotiations would concern approximately 48,000 U.S. Air Force and Army personnel—three-fourths of them airmen—and an additional 1,200 U.S. military personnel engaged in training, assistance and advice to Thai forces.

Press officer Robert J. McCloskey said that Foreign Minister Thanat Khoman talked to U.S. Ambassador Leonard Unger in Bangkok on Aug. 20 about beginning negotiations.

McCloskey said that he knew from discussions which took place during President Nixon's recent trip to Bangkok that the chief executive felt relations with Thailand are very important.

"In that spirit," McCloskey said, "the President recently agreed that at an appropriate time there should be consultations leading to a gradual reduction of the level of our forces in Thailand."

"The foreign minister of Thailand has now taken the initiative with our ambassador to suggest discussions along these lines."

"We for our part are willing to enter into the discussions."

Predict 1,000 Student Suicides

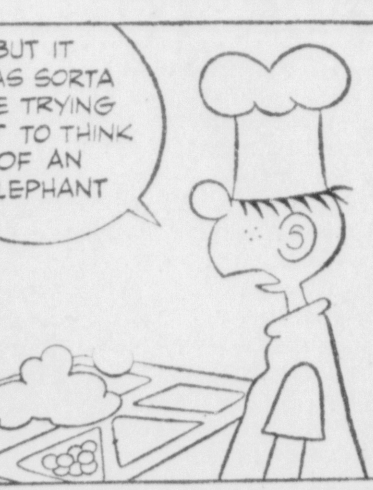

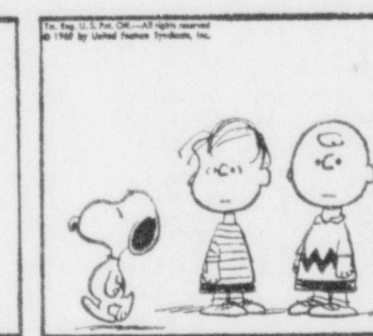

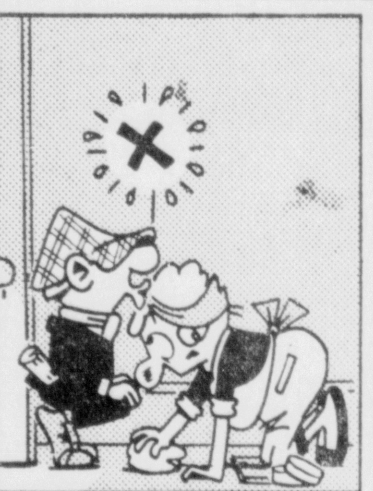

CHICAGO (AP) —One thousand college students will take their own lives this year, a study in the September issue of Today's Health stated today.

Emotional conflicts and mounting pressures will cause 10,000 students to attempt suicide, the study added.

Danna L. Farnsworth, director of health services at Harvard University, forecast that one of 10 students will experience emotional conflicts severe enough to require professional help.

Many will try to shrug off the problems with alcohol or drugs and others will turn to promiscuous sexual outlets, the article said.

The report said that freshmen students must cope with dramatically increased workloads and the panic competition for admission to college.

MANISTIQUE

Good Catches Of Browns Taken

The temperature has been ranging between 70 and 90 during the day and falling to 50 at night the past week which has driven the fish well below the lake surfaces. Winds have been strong from the south. The wind changed to the north this past weekend and brought some rain and cool weather with it off Lake Superior, thus reminding us that fall is soon upon us and the kids will be returning to school.

Asters are the flower of the week. They are found profusely along most of our highways and by-ways. John Pie weed in the low areas, and Fire weed in the barrens also add to the late summer colorama.

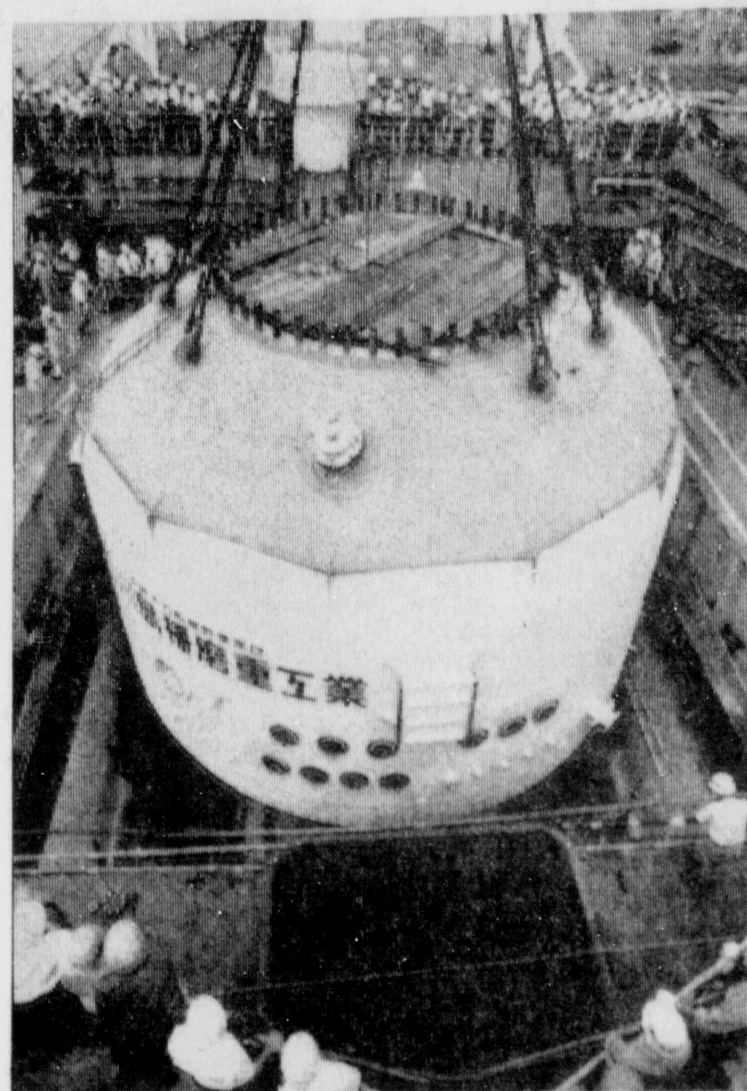

Fishing in general has been slow on inland lakes. It seems that fishermen either do not care to venture forth in the hot sun or figure the percentages are stacked against them during July and August. Pressure is down. Some good catches of fish are made by trolling near bottom with night crawler rigs and spoons, fishing for perch in the deeper weed beds, and casting for bass at night. Brook trout fishing is holding up quite well on many streams, especially in early morning and late evening hours.

Lake Trout — Trollers are having a field day in Lake Superior off the port of Grand Marais. Some lakers are also taken by bobbing in Pendill's Bay.

Coho — Fair catches taken incidental to Lake Trout while trolling off Grand Marais. Several "Jack" coho have been taken at mouth of Thompson Creek — Lake Michigan. These fish range from 10-13 inches. Some brookies and rainbow also taken at this location. The fall run of coho are not expected until September and October in this area. Early morning fishing is best for "Jack" coho.

Card of Thanks

Derusha

We wish to thank our friends, neighbors and relatives for their kindness and sympathy in our bereavement, the death of our dear husband and father, Sidney Derusha. We are grateful to the priests of St. Anne's for their comforting words, to the pallbearers, to those who sent flowers, spiritual bouquets, and food, to the nurses of St. Francis Hospital, and to those who offered the use of their cars.

Family of Sidney Derusha

In Memoriam

Beaudin

In loving memory of our dear husband and father, Clifford M. Beaudin who passed away fifteen years ago, August 21, 1954. We mourn the loss of one we loved, We did our best to save; Beloved in life, regretted still, Remembered in his grave. No more upon this earth. We'll see his gentle, loving face. There is not one in the wide world Can ever take his place.

Sadly Missed By The Clifford Beaudin Family

Capitol's History Told In Booklet

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Historical Commission has released a 40-page booklet detailing the background of the State Capitol at Lansing. The pamphlet — selling for 75 cents — including a political history of the building as well as the notation that a man known as the "human fly" climbed to the top of the Capitol dome in 1916. Interested persons may obtain copies of the pamphlet by writing to the commission at Lansing.

The cordilleras, or ranges, that comprise the Andes reach heights of 18,000 to nearly 23,000 feet, and in Bolivia stretch 400 miles wide.

Hollywood Boulevard Is Showing Its Age

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A policeman who patrols the Boulevard tells it this way:

"The tourists' biggest disappointment is the corner of Hollywood and Vine. They come there and see the Broadway Department store and Hody's Restaurant and the Rexall Drug and they say, 'This is it?'"

The patrolman expressed what local residents have long known but tourists find out the hard way: There is a wide discrepancy between Hollywood Boulevard according to legend and the way it really is.

Take a westward stroll along the Boulevard and you'll see why tourists go away disappointed.

Start at Gower Street, but don't look for the famed Gower Gulch where Western actors used to meet; it no longer exists. You walk past car dealers, a mortuary, small shops until you come to Vine Street, which resembles a busy intersection in anywhere, U.S.A. A half-block down Vine is the Brown Derby, where you might find some television stars—if you can get a table. Movie stars rarely come to Hollywood any more; their habits: Beverly Hills or Europe.

Wax Museum
Continue along the Boulevard and you pass movie houses, most offering a heavy diet of sex, and inexpensive shops—there are almost no "class" stores in Hollywood. After Wilcox Avenue, quality descends. Then comes a dreary procession of discount stores, surplus outfits, going-out-of-business sales, health food stores, pornography stands, orange juice counters, etc.

The main attractions in this stretch: the ornate Grauman's Egyptian Theater and the Wax Museum operated by an enterprising East Indian named Spooky Singh. Book stores thrive.

The few blocks between Highland Avenue and LaBrea are the only ones with an air of prosperity. New high-rise office buildings and apartments are beginning to appear. Nearby is the Boulevard's only authentic tourist attraction Grauman's Chinese Theater, where foot prints and bright sayings of Hollywood's greats are enshrined in a paved courtyard ("Love to All-Shirley Temple").

Oh, yes, there is something else for the tourists to see. Imbedded in the charcoal terrazzo sidewalks along the Boulevard are bronze stars containing the names of 1,339 figures in the movie, radio, television and recording industries, from Bud Abbott to Adolph Zukor.

Hippies
And so on these hot August days you see bewildered tourists, dressed in shorts and loud shirts and equipped with cameras and small fry, plodding down the Boulevard with downward eyes.

When they gaze around, they see hippies trying to earn pot money by selling the Los Angeles Free Press; tight-panted boys with makeup and bleached hair; Zulu-haired gurus in outfits that stagger belief.

These nouveau characters have replaced the authentic Hollywood types who long frequented the Boulevard—Peter the Hermit, Billy the Midget and others. And they have caused alarm among Hollywood's merchants, who campaigned for more police protection. Three weeks ago, the Los Angeles Police Department instituted a walking patrol of the Boulevard.

Perkins School Opens Sept. 2

Superintendent Gene F. DeKeyser, Baldwin Township School, Perkins, announced today that school will open at 9 a. m. Sept. 2 and will be dismissed at 11:30 a. m.

New students should enroll on opening day between 8 and 9 a. m. Kindergarten children, not already enrolled and registered, need to bring proof of immunization and birth record.

Hot lunch will not be served the first day, but will begin on Sept. 3. Prices will remain the same for now, $1.25 per week or $4.25 per month per student. Tickets may be purchased in the office of the superintendent.

For the grade and high school students, bus routes and schedules will remain the same as last year.

New members of the faculty are Miss Barbara Oberg, who graduated from Carthage College, Kenosha, Wis., with a bachelor of science degree in elementary education, and James Marjamaki of Gwinn, who graduated from Northern Michigan University with a bachelor of science degree in elementary education. Miss Oberg will teach kindergarten and special reading and Marjamaki will teach the third and fourth grades.

Mrs. Helen Johnson, who formerly taught the third and fourth grades, will now teach first and second.

McLaughlin On GOP Committee

LANSING (AP)—GOP State Chairman William McLaughlin has been named to the planning committee for the first Midwest Regional Republican Conference set for Nov. 13-15 at Des Moines, Iowa. The conference, which includes members of 14 states, will encompass such topics as public relations, effective political polling and electronic data processing.

Teen-Agers
The teen-agers involved, according to William Billings, the first Negro to join the church, which now is 80 per cent white in a community about 85 per cent black, "are not representative of the community at all. People are scared to death of them."

Mrs. Evans said the teen-agers, not all members of the church, attended church services in uniforms of white shirts and black pants and one youth carried a bull whip once. They have taken up posts at the altar and doors following worship, but have not hindered anyone, she said.

Before the teen militant episode, Mrs. Evans said the Rev. Mr. Stephens divided the church's Luther League church group into black and white groups with separate treasuries and refused to reunite them.

South Scorchers Hard On Crops

By The Associated Press
A sticky heat wave, scorching the South with oven-hot temperatures since early summer, has caused crop and pasture losses totaling millions of dollars.

The nation's capital, caught in its worst drought in 97 years, may need mandatory water rationing if heavy rains don't come.

Corn, soybeans and cotton have been some of the hardest hit crops in most southern states. The hot, dry weather which has soared to 106 degrees in some Mississippi counties, has extensively damaged that state's watermelon crop.

The broiling heat is even affecting broilers—chickens, that is. In Mississippi, where poultry is a major industry, farmers and processors report chickens are dying in increasing numbers — both in hen houses and in route to the processing plant. Broiler size is declining and egg production is down.

Most states reported rains have been so erratic and scattered that some counties were in fair shape while others have severe crop damage. The historic Potomac River, main water supply for the more than two million residents of greater Washington, is at a record low.

Each Time Of Life Has Its Reward

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — There is no time of life without its reward.

Youth may be in the driver's seat in the world today, but middle age, relinquishing the reins, can still enjoy the buggy ride.

Can anyone really enjoy middle age? Pray, why not? If he survived the knife pangs of adolescence, certainly he can endure the duller woes of middle age.

This period of life has certain advantages, although some of them may be a bit wry-flavored. For example, when you are middle-aged:

Your conduct improves. You shrug away a temptation because that takes less energy than to succumb to it.

Young Peacock
No longer having to keep up with the young peacock strutters, you don't have to waste money buying fad clothing that will be out of style the next season.

No one thinks you're a sissy if you wear a hat when it's cold and carry an umbrella when it rains. People expect you to take protective measures against nature's ravages.

When something upsets the even tenor of your ways, you merely sigh instead of screaming and kicking a wastebasket. The doctor has told you that medical history records very few cases of anyone breaking his blood vessels while sighing.

If a bad moment comes into our life, you can console yourself by recalling worse moments you managed to wade through.

While some things still confuse you, nothing really quite catches you by surprise anymore. You've been through the mill.

Relatives Depart
You don't have to put up with so many visits from your wife's relatives. There simply aren't so many left.

Some of the early ecstasy may have departed from your marriage, but, all in all, it is much more comfortable. Your wife has wisely decided to quit trying to reform you—and turn that job over to time, her best ally.

Philosophy rides to your rescue. You decide that, while your time of great expectations is over, so is the period of your greatest errors. Life's storms are diminishing, calm weather lies ahead.

The only people who can't enjoy middle age are those who wear themselves out aping the young. How can anyone be happily acting like an ape?

Laird Asked To Explain Lack Of Ear Protection

WASHINGTON (AP) — The ranking member of the House public health subcommittee today asked Army Secretary Stanley R. Resor to explain why the Army hasn't followed its own recommendations to prevent partial deafness to trainees.

Rep. Paul G. Rogers, D-Fla., also asked Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird in another letter to explain why the separate services haven't joined to prevent ear damage from the noise of weapons during training.

"It's unexplainable for one service to be doing one thing, another to be doing nothing and none of them coordinated," Rogers said.

Double Standard

In an interview Rogers also said the government has a double standard on prevention of deafness—requiring civilian contractors of the Defense Department to keep decibel levels low while needlessly exposing troops in training to damaging noise.

In his letters to Laird and Resor, Rogers cited an Associated Press report that thousands of soldiers in training suffer significant hearing losses because the Army doesn't provide proper ear protection.

"We have a stake in assuring that every man who enters combat is physically fit and not in any way hampered by such major or minor hearing difficulties, which apparently have been resulting from this exposure to noise in boot camp," Rogers wrote to Resor.

Hearing Defect
"Needless to say, this government is endangering the well being of every serviceman who enters combat zones with a hearing defect," Rogers added.

One bit of possible protection, suggested as standard by Dr. Jerry L. Northern, chief audiologist at Walter Reed Army Hospital, is the type of ear muffs used by civilian airport crews. They cost $6 a pair and would be useful in training, Northern said.

But doctors at some bases decline to approve their use in most cases because they consider the cost too high.

In his letters, Rogers said: "The outlay of the Veterans Administration for hearing defects each year amounts to more than $32 million. So in addition to doing physical harm to the men themselves, it is costing the government a great deal of money to pay for this damage."

Detroit Teachers Group Fights Agency Shop

DETROIT (AP)—A rival Detroit teachers union and proponents of antiunion legislation have combined resources to challenge the agency shop clause recently negotiated by the Detroit Federation of Teachers with the city's Board of Education.

A group called Detroit Teachers Opposed to Compulsory Unionism—financed by the rival Detroit Education Association and the Michigan Right to Work Committee—now claims a membership of 350 and has sent a letter to all 12,000 Detroit teachers asking them to violate the agency shop rule.

Under the agency shop clause, teachers must either join the DFT or pay a fee equal to union dues, about $75 annually, for union negotiating services.

The teachers contend the agency shop clause violates tenure since paying the fee is a condition of employment. However, the State Tenure Commission has upheld the rule before.

Minister Now Being Called 'White Racist'

DETROIT (AP)—Eight years ago when he refused to move his then all white congregation out of a changing neighborhood, the Rev. George A. Fleischer was met with what he called "hate and rejection on the part of some of the white church members."

Today, after fighting to keep his Puritan Heights Evangelical Lutheran Church integrated, he is "being called a white racist" by some of his black parishioners.

The Rev. Mr. Fleischer blames the militancy of his Negro assistant pastor, the Rev. W. Stephens, and says his failure to have Stephens removed forced his own resignation from the pastorate he has held 19 years.

"I believe that Pastor Stephens has become a separatist," explained the Rev. Mr. Fleischer, who described his civil rights work as "the mainstay of my efforts for the past 10 years."

Impossible
"If this is the case, it's impossible for us to work together. The religious and social philosophy on which this congregation rests seems to be no longer valid. We're being told that separatism—rather than harmonious relationships between the races—is the way."

Pastor Stephens, who has been with the 180-member church on Detroit's Northwest Side since 1967, said he feels the issue is a "church affair" and he prefers to remain silent.

The church council meets Aug.

31 to discuss the appointment of a new senior pastor and probe the controversy over the Rev. Mr. Stephens.

Mrs. William Evans, wife of the church council chairman, said the possibility of withdrawal from the American Lutheran Church is being considered.

"The Michigan district realizes we have a problem but they don't know how to remove this man without violence," she said.

Mrs. Evans and members of the council reported the Negro assistant pastor is backed by an estimated 25 militant black teenagers who they said reportedly have threatened to burn down the church if he is removed.

Some council members also complained of what they called racist sermons by the Rev. Mr. Stephens, charging he has urged white congregation members to find a church "where they might be happier."

Before the teen militant episode, Mrs. Evans said the Rev. Mr. Stephens divided the church's Luther League church group into black and white groups with separate treasuries and refused to reunite them.

Pressure Placed On Quality Control

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — With the consumer movement for safer and more reliable products expected to remain strong for many years the burdens on quality controllers are closing as relentlessly as hydraulic presses.

Quality control, once just another aspect of the production process, is the pressure point in almost any company today. And the pressure might even get worse as more complex products come off the assembly lines.

Add to the situation the continually increasing population and affluence, which means an ever-rising demand for more and better products. Now multiply this by an ever-rising demand by consumers for higher quality.

The result: greater obligations on business and more complaints from buyers.

Responsibility
Moreover, the responsibility for turning out products that are good as advertised no longer is just a matter of a firm's reputation or a customer's continued confidence. The obligations are even greater and business knows it.

Money is involved. Suits by consumers are becoming more common. And lurking in the background is the threat of government regulation, which business understands equally well.

Early this month General Motors was sued in Los Angeles for $427 million for allegedly refusing to replace defective wheels on thousands of trucks. The suit was filed by two men on behalf of thousands of others.

Consumers today know that products can be improved, for they've seen thousands of industries and hundreds of thousands of workers combine their efforts to make a rocket and moon vehicle that performed with better than 99 per cent efficiency.

Added Cost

What the consumer is unlikely to accept, however, is the added costs involved in such precise quality control. The prices of automobiles might become prohibitive, and those on washing machines would drive homemakers back to the scrub board. Quality is improving, the manufacturers insist. Standards today were often unachievable in the 1930s, and in the 1960s the standards very likely will be higher than they are today.

But, the manufacturers point out, realism rather than idealism must prevail in the market place. If perfect products are sent to market and nobody can afford them, then the perfect manufacturer will soon cease operations.

Hollywood Boulevard Is Showing Its Age

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A policeman who patrols the Boulevard tells it this way:

"The tourists' biggest disappointment is the corner of Hollywood and Vine. They come there and see the Broadway Department store and Hody's Restaurant and the Rexall Drug and they say, 'This is it?'"

The patrolman expressed what local residents have long known but tourists find out the hard way: There is a wide discrepancy between Hollywood Boulevard according to legend and the way it really is.

Take a westward stroll along the Boulevard and you'll see why tourists go away disappointed.

Start at Gower Street, but don't look for the fabled Gower Gulch where Western actors used to meet; it no longer exists. You walk past car dealers, a mortuary, small shops until you come to Vine Street, which resembles a busy intersection in Anywhere, U.S.A. A half-block down Vine is the Brown Derby, where you might find some television stars—if you can get a table. Movie stars rarely come to Hollywood any more; their habitats: Beverly Hills or Europe.

Wax Museum

Continue along the Boulevard and you pass movie houses, most offering a heavy diet of sex, and inexpensive shops—there are almost no "class" stores in Hollywood. After Wilcox Avenue, quality descends. Then comes a dreary procession of discount stores, surplus outfits, going-out-of-business sales, health food stores, pornography stands, orange juice counters, etc.

The main attractions in this stretch: the ornate Grauman's Egyptian Theater and the Wax Museum operated by an enterprising East Indian named Spooky Singh. Book stores thrive.

The few blocks between Highland Avenue and LaBrea are the only ones with an air of prosperity. New high-rise office buildings and apartments are beginning to appear. Nearby is the Boulevard's only authentic tourist attraction Grauman's Chinese Theater, where foot prints and bright sayings of Hollywood's greats are enshrined in a paved courtyard ("Love to All-Shirley Temple").

Oh, yes, there is something else for the tourists to see. Imbedded in the charcoal terrazzo sidewalks along the Boulevard are bronze stars containing the names of 1,539 figures in the movie, radio, television and recording industries, from Bud Abbott to Adolph Zukor.

Hippies

And so on these hot August days you see bewildered tourists, dressed in shorts and loud shirts and equipped with cameras and small fry, plodding down the Boulevard with downward eyes.

When they gaze around, they see hippies trying to earn pot money by selling the Los Angeles Free Press; tight-panted boys with makeup and bleached

Teen-Agers

The teen-agers involved, according to William Billings, the first Negro to join the church, which now is 80 per cent white in a community about 85 per cent black, "are not representative of the community at all. People are scared to death of them."

Mrs. Evans said the teen-agers, not all members of the church, attended church services in uniforms of white shirts and black pants and one youth carried a bull whip once. They have taken up posts at the altar and doors following worship, but have not hindered anyone, she said.
